OC Extension College Day is April 16

The Oakland County Extension Homemakers' Association plans its annual College Day to run from 9 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Wednesday, April 16, in United Central Methodist Church, 3892 Highland Road, Pontiac.

Agenda for the day will be lessons in fashion and grooming, gourmet foods, custom jewelry and financial planning. Jane Nugent, an astrologer, will be the noon speaker.

The Michigan Association of Extension Homemakers is a non-profit organization that was started by Co-operative Extension Service of Michigan State University and U.S. Department of Agriculture.

It was formed to develop and facilitate an informal, out-of-school educational program in family living for homemakers in Michigan. The Oakland County Extension Homemaker is a branch of the Michigan association. Reservations for lunch on College Day can be made or participants may bring their own. A 50-cent registration fee will be charged. Reservations or inquiries will be taken by calling Mary Lloyd, 887-3952.

Folk tellers spend day here for 3 appearances

The "Folk tellers," Connie Rogan and Barbara Freeman of North Carolina, come to the Farmington area for three appearances Wednesday, April 23.

Denise Albrecht, children's librarian for Farmington Community Library, says, "These two expert and famous storytellers were previously librarians. They have captivated audiences all over the world with their exciting, animated, engrossing tales."

The Folk tellers come to the area through the joint efforts of Children's Bookshop, Farmington Youth Assistance and the Farmington Community Library.

The storytellers will perform for preschoolers, kindergartners and their parents at 10:30 a.m. in the Farmington branch library, 23500 Liberty.

From 4:45 p.m. they will be autographing books in the Children's Bookshop, 29791 Northwestern Highway, in Applegate Square, Southfield.

The entire family is invited to their storytelling performance at 7:30 p.m. in Farmington Hills Community Library, 32737 Twelve Mile Road.

The performances in the libraries are without charge, but the staff asks for reservations.

Those planning to attend the morning session are asked to call 474-7770. Those planning to attend the evening session are asked to call 553-0300.

Business college lists top students

Detroit College of Business named students from Farmington and Farmington Hills to its winter semester dean's list.

They are Loren L. Bandt of Farmington and Ignatius Ghattas of Farmington Hills.

To qualify for the dean's list, the students must earn a 3.5 average or better at the end of a quarter.

Chair caning to be taught

Marcia Waters lends her expertise to a class in chair caning in a five session workshop that runs from 9:30-11:30 a.m. beginning Monday, April 14, in Farmington Community Center.

She invites students to bring a chair in need of a new cane set to class, one with holes already drilled rather than grooved.

"It's a simply inexpensive way to restore a valued chair that's gathering dust in your attic or garage," said the student of craftsman Abe Johnson.

Registrations are necessary and will be taken by calling the center, 477-8404.
