

Toymaking badge earned

Ten-year-old Debbie Madej represents Girl Scouts from Troop 553 who completed their toymaking badges this week and wound up the project by giving those toys to children in Cloverdale

Rantanen-Sabo

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rantanen of Farmington Hills announce the engagement of their daughter Elizabeth Helen to David James Sabo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Sabo of Flint.

The bride-to-be is a graduate of Farmington High School, attended Oakland Community College, and is now employed with the Detroit Lions Inc. Her fiancé graduated from Ainsworth High School in Flint and attends Mott Community College while employed with General Motors.

An August wedding is planned in Redford's St. John Lutheran Church.

Chair caning to be taught

Marcia Waters lends her expertise to a class in chair caning in a five session workshop that runs from 9:30-11:30 a.m. beginning Monday, April 14, in Farmington Community Center.

She invites students to bring a chair in need of a new cane set to class, one with holes already drilled rather than grooved.

"It's a simply inexpensive way to restore a valued chair that's gathering dust in your attic or garage," said the student of craftsman Abe Johnson.

Registrations are necessary and will be taken by calling the center, 477-8404.

Jewish legends interpreted in 2-person play

Sholem Aleichem Institute and Moishe Haar Memorial Foundation join to sponsor "Coming from a Great Distance," at 8:30 p.m. Saturday, April 19, in Southfield High School's auditorium, Lahser and 10 Mile roads.

The play is performed by two persons with masks, puppets and music, retelling Jewish legends from collective sources that are historical, imaginative, oral and literary.

It is the first time the play will be performed in the Detroit area. It is free and considered to be of interest to non-Jewish as well as Jewish persons.

Moishe Haar Memorial Foundation honors the memory of the cultural leader of Sholem Aleichem Institute, based in Farmington Hills.

The Institute is an independent organization dedicated to the cultural and educational areas of Jewish secular life. Its activities include an annual art show, monthly assemblies and discussions of topics of general Jewish interest and celebrations of traditional Jewish holidays.

'Be Your Own Boss' seminar set April 16

Monday, April 14, is registration deadline for the "Be Your Own Boss" seminar that begins with coffee at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday, April 16, in Northwest Branch YWCA, 25940 Grand River.

The program is designed for women who are interested in exploring the possibilities of starting their own business and led by Phyllis Kennedy.

A morning and afternoon session will be interrupted by a lunch break when participants can purchase lunch from the salad bar or eat their own sandwich.

Cost for the session is $10, or $8 for Y members. Reservations will be taken by calling the Y, 537-8500.

Mrs. Kennedy believes that the managerial skills needed in business are the same whether it's used to operate an ice cream franchise, or a factory and she encourages women to recognize their own skills and develop a business plan, transferring skills from the home to business management.
