Masked drama danced this week

"The Story of Kencana Wunggu," a masked dance-drama from the island of Java, will be performed at 8 p.m. May 10, 11 and 24 in The Attic Theatre, 525 E. Lafayette, Detroit.

The solo performance is given by Laurie Ross, a resident of Farmington Hills who studied with Ibu Darshi, a 50-year-old dance master for a year in the island country to learn the full repertoire of the Sundanese dances.

She perpetuates the art of the mask dances of Java through performances and classes in International Institute, the first of its kind in the Detroit area.

Her solo performance at The Attic is one of the programs scheduled for the theatre's "Performing Arts Festival" which runs through May 24. The festival performances include mime, musical theatre, drama, improvisational theatre, dance and a special family program.

"THE STORY" of Kencana Wunggu tells the story of a princess who runs away from home to avoid a marriage that had been arranged by her father and of her exploits in the forest where she has gone into hiding.

"This is a lighthearted fable designed to please children as well as adults," Ms. Ross said.

All of the traditional dances from

Java are performed with masks representing five main characters and their accompanying masks.

The drama stems from the Ramayana and Mahabharata, two Indian epic poems. Movements come out of the folk stories integrated into these poems.

While in Java, Ms. Ross was a member of "Topeng" mask theater. She also studied mime with Leonard Pitt and dance and drama at East Bay Music Center in California and New York University.

Before her return to Detroit for a while she was a performing member with Ramayana Dancers of New York.

Tickets for all performances in the Attic's "Performing Arts Festival" are available by calling the box office, 963-7789.

Barbershop groups want to set new record

A Barbershop Spectacular will be held at Pine Knob on May 24.

The Clarkson and Waterford/Drayton Rotary Clubs in association with the Southeast Michigan Barbershop Chapters of the SPEBSQSA plan to set a new record for the largest number of male singers ever assembled on a stage at one time.

A chorus of more than 350 voices will cap off an evening of barbershop quartet and chorus performances.

The international acclaimed quartet,

"Classic Collection" will perform along with the comedy quartet "Schitzophonic." The "Great Lakes Express" will also be featured on the program.

The performance will begin at 8 p.m. Tickets are available at Hudson's Northland, Pontiac and Oakland malls.
