formers headed by two internationally acclaimed artists, Jessica Tandy and Hume Cronyn.

"Foxfire" draws its setting and details from the popular Foxfire books, which were designed to record and preserve a fast-disappearing way of rural life. "Foxfire" is a human comedy in which the conflict between old and new values.

Co-author Susan Cooper has explained that the Foxfire books are based on interviews with "an amazing assortment of people" but that the plot of the play, like any other work of fiction, is "a personal dream" and not specifically found in the factual documentary material. The authors have livened a framework, into which, as Miscooper says, "We have threis to put the humber of the production, which will contain a following the form of the Brent Carver has been a featured soloist in such works as "Jacques Brel, and "Jubalay" and "Kurt Weill: From Berlin to Broadway" in Vancouver. He appeared as Hamlet in the musical adplation of Shakespeare's play, entitled "Kronborg" 1592," which was seen at the NAC and on tour. He is known as well for such roles as Romeo at the Citadel Theater and for such contemporary Canadian plays as Carol Bolt's "One Night Stand." The performance will begin Aug. 7.
