

These trips will please gardeners

Registration opens for Pitch, Hit & Run

Boys and girls from 8-13 years of age may enter the Pitch, Hit & Run competition beginning at 10 a.m. Saturday, July 12, on City Park baseball diamonds. The park is on Shawassee Road, between Power and Farmington roads.

The event is co-sponsored by Farmington Hills and West Bloomfield Parks and Recreation departments, major league baseball and Burger King.

Completed registration forms are necessary for the entrants to qualify. The blanks can be picked up at either of the Parks and Recreation offices or at Burger King, 22016 Orchard Lake Road, or 32704 Grand River.

Completed forms must be returned to either of the parks and recreation offices before July 10.

Each youngster competing will participate in three categories: pitching, hitting and running.

Each competitor will be allowed three throws into a target 46 feet away in the pitching competition. Each successful pitch is worth 50 points.

In the hitting category, each entrant is permitted three swings with the longest fair fly counted towards the total point score at one point per foot.

In the running category each youngster runs around all three bases, beginning and ending at home plate, with a point score determined upon elapsed time.

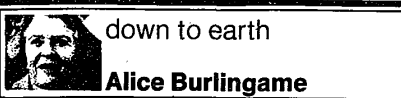

Although rising gas prices have limited elaborate vacation plans for many of us, the gardener has many close to home choices for viewing prime gardens.

Wear your most comfortable shoes and walk through the Michigan State University campus in East Lansing. You will agree it could be called the most beautiful college campus in the country.

Milton Barrons is responsible for many of the trees and shrubs, the building landscaping and the thousands of annuals placed for best light advantage.

Those interested in medicine would like strolling through Beale Gardens to become acquainted with one of the earliest teaching plots for pharmacy, just as Professor Beale made the plan.

You may walk through an All-American test flower gardens of the horticulture department where there are masses of new introductions in exotic colors. It isn't unusual to have to pause for a wedding ceremony taking place. The School of Hotel Restaurant and Institutional Management at MSU operates the Kellogg Center as it is always a temptation to enjoy one of their meals.

the beauty of the gardens. Aiden Dow, his son, the architect of world renown, is active in the day-by-day planning of this beauty spot for all to enjoy.

This famous garden also has an All-American display garden of new introductions. Members of Cranbrook House and Gardens Auxiliary will be making a pilgrimage to this garden in June.

If you feel that your colorful, flower garden needs more light, review the position of nearby tree branches, pruning the lower branches and thinning out the secondary branches can often make a terrific difference.

If your brick on a walk or patio has moss on it which can be slippery, water the moss surface, sprinkle with ammonium sulfate fertilizer and later remove the root with a wire brush, just that simple.

Lutherans host dramatist

Characterization of religious historical personalities Martin Luther and Paul the Apostle will be performed by Ohio dramatist Hannibal Frederick in his first appearance in the Detroit area, hosted by members of St. Paul Lutheran Church.

Curtain time is 8 p.m. Wednesday, June 18, in the church on Fifth and Williams Streets, Royal Oak.

Reservations are not required. A donation will be asked at the door.
