

Digging for progress

That's how many Farmington and Farmington Hills residents feel these days as they see Orchard Lake Road being dug up to install drains for the road-widening project which has been planned for many years. (Staff photo by Randy Borst)

Central awards scholarships to Farmington area students

Seven Farmington area students have been awarded scholarships for next fall from Central Michigan University in Mt. Pleasant.

They are: Suzanne M. Reynolds and Sara L. Varas of Farmington and Kimberly Garver, Theresa J. Hoffman, David B. Prestel, Sandra L. Stumpf and Cheryl A. Thurston of Farmington Hills.

CMU automatically awards scholarships to valedictorians and salutatorians of Michigan high schools and to entering students with high school grade point averages of 3.5 or better.

The valedictorian/salutatorian awards and the academic honors scholarships are granted by the CMU Board of Trustees to students admitted to the university.

Student wins music gift

Marianne LaVere of Farmington Hills is a winner of the 1980 Jessie Dillman Music Scholarship presented by the department of music at Eastern Michigan University in Ypsilanti.

Dillman scholarships, each worth $1,000, were awarded to six music and music education majors at Eastern and five incoming students planning to major in music or music education.

The scholarship was established by a bequest from the estate of Jessie Dillman, a lifelong Ypsilanti resident. She was a 1922 graduate of the Conservatory of Music operated by the Music Department of the Michigan State Normal School, now EMU.

WSU awards scholarships

The office of admissions at Wayne State University has awarded five Farmington area high school seniors four-year full tuition scholarships.

Recipients are John Johnston, a Harrison High School graduate; Charlita Mangrum of North Farmington High; and three graduating seniors from Our Lady of Mercy — Marisa Abbo, Lisa Brancato and Mary Katkic.
