papers. It's a good price and I get company.

MRS. YVONNE SCHMIDT, 1871 Westbrook, Livonia, is another advanced skier who thought the ladies ski day a fine idea. She and her husband, Fred, like to ski frequently, but mostly in the evening.

"And it's nicer to go out when the sun is shining," she added. Mrs. Schmidt said they had tried their toddler son, David, on skis a year ago but the experiment wasn't very successful.

"It's just as well," she said. "This way I leave him with a friend and have more time for skiing."

For those who need it, though, baby-sitting is available at Mt. Brighton.

ONE CLASS MEMBER who may be out of ladies ski day for a while is Mrs. Cecelia Hanna, 8923 Sioux, Redford Township.

In years of skiing she's never had an injury, but last week she fell down a flight of stairs and suffered some painful bruises. Mrs. Hanna also likes to go skiing with her three children, Michael, 15; Mark, 13; and Lee Ann, 10, and they had been planning a trip north soon.

"I told the doctor I hoped nothing was broken," she said. "There would be three very disappointed kids."

Dr. Cruickshank Will Lecture For MACLD

"New Hope for Children with Learning Disabilities" is the topic of a talk by Dr. William M. Cruickshank in a talk at 8 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 5, in the Student Union Building on campus of the University of Detroit, McNichols and Livonia.

NEW DIRECTOR—William Feucht, vocal music head at Farmington High School, is the new director of the Kendallarks, women's singing group open to any interested women in Observerland. The group, now in its 12th year, gives concerts in schools, churches and hospitals as well as taking part in large shows. Those who can sight read music and are interested in rehearsing Tuesday evenings in the North Farmington Baptist Church, 13 Mile west of Orchard Lake Road, may call Mrs. Bea Scaglione, president, 626-5028.
