Lahser tops Mercy in poll

Bloomfield Hills Lahser and Farmington Our Lady of Mercy continue as the top two girls' basketball teams in the Observer & Eccentric coverage area.

Lahser, an undefeated team after four games, owns the number one spot by a slim margin over Mercy. The teams held the same positions last week.

Farmington and Walled Lake Central tied for third.

number three position last week, beat Redford Union by one point last Thursday. Farmington won twice last week to hike its overall mark to 2-1 — its only loss being to Redford Union by two points.

Birmingham Marian, West Bloomfield and Auburn Heights Avondale were the fifth, sixth and seventh teams, respectively.

Marian lost to a strong Oxford team, but registered its third win in four games over Birmingham Groves.

Avondale, which was unranked last week, knocked Rochester Adams out of the O&E's top seven with a one-point victory over the Highlanders. Avondale — a class B school — has not lost in its first four games this year.

West Bloomfield, which played Lahser Tuesday evening, split its first four games.

The O&E's Oakland County circular area includes Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills, Farmington, Rochester, Southfield, Troy and West Bloomfield. There are 20 schools included in that area.

The area cage rankings is the result of a poll taken by Oakland County sports editors Tom Bahr, Marty Budner and Dennis O'Connor.

The accompanying team records do not include this week's games.

Brother Rice stays No. 1

Birmingham Brother Rice remains the No. 1 team in the Observer & Eccentric prep football rankings for Oakland County.

The Warriors rolled up an impressive 35-6 non-league victory over Mt. Clemens last Saturday for their third victory in as many weeks.

North Farmington holds down the No. 2 position for the second straight week after a breath-taking, triple-overtime victory over rival Westland John Glenn, 28-21.

The big shakeup in this week's ratings finds No. 3 Bloomfield Hills Lahser dropping down to No. 5 after
