the low or middle class, mobility is slow. But if you work hard, you can take a chance."

A lot depends on economics, too. As a bicycle repairman, Liu earned $30 a month.

"IT WAS JUST enough to eat and buy cheaper clothes," he said. "In America you get reasonable money for a job."

He has perceived three cultural differences in his year here.

"First is education. If you are born in

Not quite as complimentary, he's noticed that Americans, including the government, waste too much.

"The third thing. There is much talk about sex. This is not so in China. I don't know if that's good or bad."

"The teachers and students here are very good," he says. "Here I feel comfortable."
