

Kindergarten enrollment increases

Student decline has silver lining

The Farmington school district, the third largest in Oakland County, has struck a stabilizing cord with its declining enrollment problem.

For the third straight year, kindergarten enrollment has stabilized near 850 students, and predicted loss district-wide fell short by nearly 100 students.

"We're pleasantly surprised," said Lewis Schulman, school superintendent.

"We like to think the school district is offering an attractive program."

Preliminary fourth Friday enrollment count is 12,071 students, a drop of 92 from last year.

Enrollment in Farmington has been on a steady decline since it peaked in 1971-72 with 16,802 students.

This year's loss wasn't as severe as others. For example, between last year and the 1978-79 school year, the district lost 650 students.

Administrative assistant Scott Bacon thinks it will be several years — maybe a decade — before the district stops losing students each year.

With sixth-graders gone from the elementary schools this year, those buildings netted the biggest drop, 1,175 fewer students.

The middle schools which replaced junior highs still house three grades, but high schools have added ninth grade this year.

SEVEN SCHOOLS have been closed in as many years because of declining enrollment: one each June. Schulman said he isn't sure if another school will be closed in June 1981.

"We're going to be reviewing all the projections and if that's the case, we will make a recommendation to the (school) board."

For the second year, the district is "out of formula" which means it receives only state aid for special education and transportation, not for each student.

Nine teachers pinkslipped last April still await recall, but the list has shrunk from 40 names.

Farmington, with 12,071 students, is third in size behind Pontiac and Waterford school districts.

An audit released last week shows that 83.5 percent of the $33 million budget is generated by local taxes. In 1979-80, only 8.2 percent of the budget was state funded.

The district is sponsoring a meeting next Monday at 7 p.m. to discuss the impact of various tax cut proposals on the district.

It will be held in the administrative offices, 32500 Shiuwassee.

Bank officer is promoted

National Bank of Detroit has announced the appointment of Lawrence M. Zaks of Farmington Hills as Assistant Banking Officer in its In-sta-loan Division.

As manager of the Business Loans Department, Mr. Zaks supervises the administration of the bank's business loan portfolio. With NBD two and a half years, Mr. Zaks previously worked as a credit analyst in the Credit Administration Division and a credit authorizer in the Business Loans Department.

Mr. Zaks holds a B.S. degree in finance from Wayne State University.

He is a member of the Renaissance Center Jaycees Club.

Orchard Ridge hits record high

By MARY GNIEWEK

Oakland Community College, Orchard Ridge campus, marked a record-breaking enrollment this fall of 7,800 students, the biggest head count in the school's 12-year history.

Add short course enrollment to the number and it swells to nearly 10,000 — which is just 2,000 students short of enrollment in the three city, kindergarten through 12th grade Farmington school district.

OCC Provost Dick Thompson attributes the jump to the bad economy. Students are enrolled en masse in job training programs.

"People are here for short term practical reasons," Thompson said. Except for last year, which also set a record enrollment of 7,500, never has there been such a back-to-school mania since the Vietnam War era.

"I think every (OCC) campus has experienced a record enrollment," he said.

That doesn't jibe with steadily declining enrollment in the K-12 district because OCC houses an older student population.

"Our population is quite divorced from the high school community," Thompson said.

The average age at Orchard Ridge in Farmington Hills is 25. At other OCC campuses, the age ranges up from 29.

IN THE PAST five years, there has been growing interest in career areas, causing almost a reverse trend from the liberal arts, curriculum popular a decade ago.

"It poses problems," Thompson said. "We have a full cadre of liberal arts (teachers) who need to be fully employed. And we want to meet the need in career areas. It presses us in two different directions."
