

Concert will celebrate the holidays

Thursday, November 20, 1980

(F9C)

The Farmington Community Band will present "A Holiday Celebration" at 8 p.m. Thursday Dec. 4 in Harrison High School Auditorium.

Featured guest artists are members of The Michigan Ballet Theatre who will perform excerpts from "The Nutcracker Suite."

Founder and artistic director of the group is Evelyn Kresson. Her early dance training was with Carlo Casselta, Leon Dancian of the American Ballet Theatre School and Christine Dubalay.

Besides directing her own school, Mrs. Kresson has been Ballet Mistress for Harbinger Dance Co., taught on the faculty of the University of Detroit Performing Arts Summer Workshops and conducted classes in both dance and movement for actors at University of Detroit.

Headquartered in West Bloomfield, the Ballet's repertoire has grown to include a wide variety of works and full schedule of performances throughout the season. These range from appearances in shopping centers to participation in workshops and to full-scale productions of major ballets as "The Nutcracker," "Snow Queen," and "Graduation Ball."

Selections by the Farmington Community Concert Band will include Russian Christmas music by Alfred Reed, "A Festival of Alfred Burt Carols," "Sleigh Ride," and "A Christmas Festival" by Leroy Anderson.

Tickets are available through The Farmington Hills Parks and Recreation Department, 31555 11 Mile Road, Harrison High School Music Department, and Farmington Insurance Agency, 33315 Grand River. Donations are $1 for senior citizens and students; $2 for adults or $5 for a family.

Sculpture dedicated at Kingswood school

By JOANNE K. PSENKA

"Emergence" a silicon bronze, hand-polished memorial sculpture by Pamela Stump was unveiled in a dedication ceremony at Kingswood School last weekend.

"Emergence" joins five previous works the school has commissioned from sculptress-teacher Ms. Stump.

Done in the monumental style, with flowing classical lines, the work depicts an adolescent girl, awakening to life and her own potential.

"I knew what I was going to do," said Ms. Stump, describing the challenge of doing this third memorial for an angular niche at Kingswood. It was commissioned by the Kingswood Alumnae Association, which gave Ms. Stump a free hand in the creation of this memorial work to Dorothy Campbell Sott, Kingswood admissions director.

"I found the right thing immediately," said Ms. Stump as she talked about the challenge of embodying in bronze the contribution, life and memory of Ms. Sott.

"I enjoyed making it immensely," she said, "I was ecstatic to be asked to work on it. To know her was to love her."

Another memorial works in the building which Ms. Stump did is the Kitty Kingswood seventh or eighth grade citizenship award, 1962. "It has the same feeling but a different style," said Ms. Stump. The Kitty Kingswood piece is direct welded copper instead of bronze.

The Suzanne Anderson Stenglein memorial sculpture was commissioned by her classmates of the class of 1947. Ms. Stump graduated in 1946, and knew Ms. Stenglein, in whose memory she created a sculpture.

Another commemoration was commissioned by the children of Henry Booth on the occasion of his 75th birthday. The sculpture Ms. Stump created serves as the award the art faculty uses to recognize the year's all around best student artist.

Against a fairy tale background, members of the Michigan Ballet Theatre will perform excerpts from the classic Christmas ballet, "The Nutcracker."

Library closes youth room during move

Farmington Hills Community Library will close its Children's Room for one day, Friday, Nov. 21, while the staff moves the book collection to its new quarters.

The spacious quarters in the downstairs level of the library, in the remodeling stage for several months, will be open Saturday, for business as usual for the young set.

when they appear as guest artists with the Farmington Community Band Thursday, Dec. 4.
