CENTER

Santa has cleared away his mail shelves in anticipation of the millions of letters he will receive from children for this holiday season.

sewing thread, thread the needles to about 10-15 inches and put the needle through the center of the kernel. Alternate or pattern cranberries between the popcorn, tying a large knot at the end of the needle. Strands can then be tied together and draped across the tree.

Other "naturals" to string on the tree are dried flowers, pods, pretzels and fresh dough cookies, shaped into Christmas characters.

For special scents in your Christmas home, try homemade pomander balls, made from fresh citrus fruit and cloves. Oranges, lemons and limes make the best balls, and the skins are thin enough to allow entry of the cloves without difficulty.

Simply tie a Christmasy ribbon around the fruit, anchoring it in place with a straight pin. Circle the fruit with whole cloves, piercing the skin deeply to allow about one-eighth of an inch of the clove to penetrate.

WHEN THE FRUIT is covered with cloves, place it in a paper bag with a teaspoon of orris root and a teaspoon of cinnamon. Place in a dark, dry place for about two weeks, allowing the fruit to shrink and harden.

Finished balls may be hung from the tree, or placed in decorated bowls for sweet-smelling rooms throughout the season.

If you have tired of the hectic pace of holiday decorating and long for a return to a more traditional, homey Christmas, try your hand at one or all of these decorating ideas. Not only will you have the atmosphere of an old-fashioned Christmas, you'll have the satisfaction and pleasure of having created it yourself.
