Softer schedule for HHS cagers

By TOM BAER

Farmington Harrison has tenderized its basketball schedule by dropping three tough teams — Highland Park, Flint Northwestern and Plymouth Salem — and Hawk coach Mike Teachman couldn't be happier with the change.

"With the 18 games we have now, there's nobody out there who's going to flat out beat us," said Teachman, whose team opens its 1980-81 campaign at 8 p.m. tomorrow at home against city-rival North Farmington.

Two other area teams, Farmington High and Lutheran High Northwest, also open tomorrow night. Farmington plays at Livonia Bentley, and Northwest plays at Detroit Country Day School.

Harrison's 11-12 overall record last season included losses by hefty margins to Salem, Northwestern and Highland Park.

"It was really asking a lot of our players to practice hard and get a three-or-four-game winning streak going knowing that there's a team out there they can't possibly beat," said Teachman, who's beginning his fourth season as head coach.

Teachman, who has several experienced players back, is optimistic about the coming season. "Looks like we have a whole lot of quickness and good outside shooting for a change," he said.

"The players have confidence. It's just a matter of eliminating mistakes and making sure our defense gets as much attention as our offense."

Harrison coach Mike Teachman: 'Looks like we have a whole lot of quickness and good outside shooting for a change.'

STEVE SHANBOLD, the Hawks' 6-foot-4 senior center, averaged seven points and six rebounds a game last season. Goran Vasovsky, a 5-11 senior, "attempted a lot of free throws last year, which shows you he was where the action was," according to Teachman.

And Teachman has a pair of 6-foot seniors in Dave Tremonti and Klay Dillon. "If they don't start, they'll be in there as sixth and seventh men," the coach said.
