Antioch asks help in newspaper drive

Antioch Lutheran Church at 13 Mile and Farmington Roads in Farmington Hills will conduct its fourth waste paper drive on the weekend of Jan. 10-11 from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. each day. Funds from the paper drives are used to help needy Farmington or Farmington Hills families make utility bill payments. The Oakland Livingston Human Services Agency assists in the program, which helps those ineligible for existing state programs. Antioch is also using a portion of the funds collected to assist the Farmington Headstart preschool program at Fairview Elementary School. Residents who wish to help are asked to deliver newspapers, tied in bundles or in bags, to the waste paper container on the church parking lot. For pickups of large amounts call 553-0338 evenings. Because of the poor economy, it is hoped that more residents will save their waste paper to donate to the church's effort.

Davis-Boatman

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Scowcraft of Farmington Hills announce the engagement of their daughter Lisa Michelle Davis to William Clay Boatman III, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Clay Boatman Jr., of Grandville. Her bridegroom is also a senior at Central Michigan University, majoring in business administration-management. An August 1981 wedding is planned in Antioch Lutheran Church in Farmington Hills.

Applehead dolls

Theresa Little, who works magic with a paring knife, will teach her trick of transforming an ordinary apple into a quaint character in Farmington Community Center. The Greenfield Village instructor will take registrations when winter term enrollments begin for all the center's classes, workshops and special events on Friday and Saturday, Jan. 9-10. Workshop participants will learn how to carve the head, make the body of wire and cloth, and get suggestions for appropriate costuming.
