

Michigan-based drama

The final, and one of the most moving scenes in Farmington Players' production of "The Runner Stumbles" features Ed Keller (at left) Kathleen Monticello and Dale Feldpausch. The Michigan-based drama of a murder that took place in 1911 continues for the next two weekends in the Players Barn Theatre. Tickets are available by calling the box office, 477-1066.

Merollis named to Chevy council

Mike Merollis of Farmington Hills has been elected to the 1981 Chevrolet Dealer Council for the Detroit Zone. Merollis of Gene Merollis Chevrolet in Garden City was elected to the Zone Council by his fellow dealers and participated in recent zone meetings. Eight regional dealer meetings will be held in advance of the Chevrolet National Dealer Council meeting in Detroit during April. The council, founded in 1937, is organized for dealers and manufacturers to discuss areas of interests of the nearly 6,000 Chevrolet dealers. The Detroit Zone includes 68 dealers in Southeastern Michigan.

Automobile Club names communications chief

Farmington Hills resident Frederick H. Doelker has been named manager of communications support at Automobile Club of Michigan. Doelker, 27, joined Auto Club's Training and Development staff in 1978 as an instructional technologist. Previously, he founded and managed the audio-visual department of the Michigan Department of Mental Health's Southgate Regional Center. He also served as an audio-visual technician at Michigan State University's Instructional Television Services office and produced instructional audio tape programs for the Ingham County School District. Doelker earned both a bachelor's and master's degree in telecommunications from Michigan State University, in 1976 and 1977, respectively.
