Class turns out little ladies and gentlemen

"Manners for Boys and Girls" will debut on Tuesday, April 28 in Farmington Community Center, led by Carol McCarthy and Paula Kempton, who have this area's franchise to this nationally recognized etiquette course for children.

The four-session class covers proper introductions, grooming, table manners, telephone manners and more.

Mrs. McCarthy has watched former graduates of the course complete the sessions with more poise and confidence acquired through the simple knowledge that they knew what was expected of them in everyday situations.

"It seems to sink in more when a teacher instructs young people in a group of their peers," Mrs. McCarthy said.

Boys ages 9-12 will begin their classes on Tuesday, April 28 with girls classes beginning on Thursday, April 30. Both will run from 4-5:30 p.m.

Mrs. McCarthy said that "there are no comparable classes for young boys in the Detroit area, as far as I know." The Farmington Community Center is located at 24705 Farmington Road. Reservations are necessary.
