

Group joins recall drive

The Citizens for More Responsible Government of Farmington and Farmington Hills is supporting the current petition drive to recall state Sen. Doug Ross, D-Southfield.

The group will hold an open meeting on Thursday in Room 100G in Farmington High School, 32000 Shawwassee, west of Orchard Lake, at 7:30 p.m.

Petitions will be available. "It is hoped that enough petitioners will now volunteer to cover Farmington and Farmington Hills polling places on May 19," said Juliette Hovanessian, group president.

Petitions can also be obtained by calling 474-3770.

Robert Tomczyk of Milford is heading the Committee to Recall Senator Ross.

"Mr. Tomczyk so convincingly presented his arguments against Senator Ross, which are founded upon his very expensive research into the senator's voting and political performances, that the board of directors agreed to cooperate with this effort," Hovanessian said.

Reasons for the recall drive include Ross's support of Proposal A and voting against an amendment that would have included the Tish III proposal on the same May 19 ballot.

"Literature is available with the petitions that explains Ross's position in most matters," Hovanessian said.

"In a public be damned attitude, he (Ross) has set himself above the people in determining what they should have and what they should not have."

Phi Beta Kappa honors students

Roger Scott Falk, son of Dr. and Mrs. Mervyn Falk, and Robert J. Sinar, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sinar, both of Farmington Hills, were among 13 Detroit Country Day School seniors honored by the Detroit Association of Phi Beta Kappa on May 4 at Ford Auditorium.

Dr. Joseph Ciampagna, President of Oakland University in Rochester, delivered the major address at the 33rd annual Detroit Convocation which was held to honor 1,000 graduating seniors from more than 100 tri-county area high schools who "maintained a grade-point average of 3.80 or above in college preparatory classes during their high school careers."
