

Immunization shots for school children

The Oakland County Health Division will be assessing immunization status of children in kindergarten, fifth and 10th grade and all new enrollees.

The review of the student immunization records is part of a statewide campaign to insure that all students attending public and non-public schools have had the full series of immunizations to prevent such diseases as measles, mumps, diphtheria, tetanus, rubella and polio.

- DPT or Td: (Diphtheria, Pertussis, Tetanus/Tetanus). Infant series of three doses with a booster after the child's third birthday, or at school entry. A Td booster is required every ten years.
- Oral polio vaccine: Infant series of two doses with a booster after the child's third birthday or at school entry. No further boosters are required.
- Measles vaccine: One dose after the child's first birthday. Repeat this vaccine if given before the first birthday or 1967. If the child has been diagnosed as having had the measles disease, the vaccine is not required.
- Rubella vaccine: One dose after the child's first birthday. Repeat this vaccine if it was given before the first birthday. This vaccine is still needed if the child has had the disease.
- Mumps vaccine: One dose after the child's first birthday. Repeat this vaccine if it was given before the child's first birthday. If the child has had the mumps, the vaccine is not required.

Immunizations are available from private physicians as well as at the Oakland County Health Division, 1200 N. Telegraph Road, Pontiac and 2725 Greenfield in Southfield.

Homicide ruled out in vet's death

Illinois police have ruled out homicide in their investigation into the death of Dr. Janice Runkle of West Bloomfield, the veterinarian to champion horse Pleasant Colony.

It will be up to a coroner's jury to determine whether the death of the 28-year-old North Farmington High and Michigan State University graduate was accidental or a suicide.

Runkle died from a drug overdose of the barbiturate pentobarbital, as determined by the Lake County, Ill., medical examiner.

"We don't know whether she deliberately took the overdose or was just doing drugs," Frank Winans, chief detective for the Lake County Sheriff's Department, said Friday.

"We have ruled out homicide," he reported.

A six-person coroner's jury is expected to decide the case during the last week of August or first week of September, Winans said.

RUNKLE WAS found dead Aug. 1 on an isolated Lake Michigan beach, which was part of an Illinois state park. She was reported missing earlier from her home and veterinary practice located near Belmont Race Track outside New York City.

Her parents have hired a private detective to carry out an independent search into the death of their daughter, who they said did not commit suicide.
