Constitution Week

Members of Quakertown Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution (DAR), join sister chapters throughout the country in observing 'Constitution Week' urging citizens to re-read the oldest constitution still in active use in the world today. Locally Lucile Fairchild (at left) and Carol Hund have set up a display in Farmington Hills Community Library which includes one of the library's newest books, "Historic and Memorial Buildings of the American Revolution." The book is a gift from Quakertown. Mrs. Fairchild is Quakertown's new regent as well as Constitution Week chairman. Ms. Hund is head of adult services for the library.

DAR chapters convene in Troy

Mrs. Richard D. Shelby, President General, National Society Daughters of the American Revolution (DAR) will be the honored guest at the 81st State Conference Sept. 24-26 in Troy Hilton Inn, Troy.

Other special guests are Mrs. Carl D. Burton, State Regent of Arkansas; Mrs. Arthur Beineke, State Regent of Indiana; Mr. Mrs. Joanne C. Burdick, State

Regent of Oklahoma; and Mrs. James Carlton Vaughn, State Regent of South Carolina.

Mrs. Maxwell E. Hunt, State Regent Michigan DAR, will preside at the opening session Thursday night. Ribbons will be presented to 50-year members. A pre-conference lineage research workshop will be given Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Alice C. Dalligan, Chief,

Burton Historical Collection will be the speaker. Her topic will be "Using the Burton Historical Library for Research."

FRIDAY SESSION includes reports of state officers and nomination of officers for the 1982-1985 State Executive Board. State chairman will describe the work accomplished concerning DAR Schools, Indians, Veteran Patients, citizen and historical facets of the objectives of the society.

Luncheon entertainment will come from the Tamassee School, S.C. when Southern Appalachian dancing is performed by the Tamassee DAR-lings.

Mrs. Shelby will be the featured speaker at the banquet Friday night, followed by a receiving line and reception.

Saturday session opens at 9 a.m. with chapter regents reports, followed by installation of the newly elected State Executive Board. Speaker for the National Defense Luncheon is Rear Admiral Lee E. Landers, SC-USNR (Ret). Hostess chapter is Louisa St Clair.

DELEGATES FROM Quakertown Chapter are the regent Mrs. Don P. Fairchild and past regent and chapter registrar Mrs. C. Harold Dolph.

COROMANDEL CARVING PRESENTATION
BY MASTER CRAFTSMAN, PATRICK KWAN PO CHANG

Mr. Kwan, of Hong Kong, will be visiting our Store for the Home on Wednesday, September 23 from 10:00 a.m. to 12:00 p.m. and 1:30 to 5:00 p.m. to demonstrate the ancient art of coromandel carving. Dramatic screens, stands, cabinets and tables, all featuring coromandel work, will be on display during Mr. Kwan's visit. These exquisite pieces bring the riches of the Orient to any home, whether as decorative focal points or accents.
