Humanism attacked

Existentialism is a philosophical and literary movement based on the doctrine that existence takes precedence over essence. It holds that man is totally free and responsible for his acts, and that this responsibility is the source of anguish.

Schaeffer's latest work "Christian Manifesto" contains many of the thoughts he presented at Ward. The book will be available later this year.

For young adults
Library lines up programs

A series of programs aimed at helping young adults will be presented by the Farmington Community Library this fall.
The library has planned programs at both branches, some requiring registration. The line-up looks like this:
"How to Survive" Author Markus Rohbart will make a guest presentation at the Farmington Hills Branch. He will speak on his experiences about the will to live, determination and understanding he acquired in the face of devastation, despair and destruction so prevalent during the Holocaust.
This program is free and open to everyone. For more information on the presentation, call Lauren Bowman at 553-0300.
"Legal Rights of Youth" will be presented by Joseph Erlich of the Oakland County Bar Association. He will talk about the legal rights of youth and answer questions at the Farmington Branch at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 1.
"Astronomy" will be held at the Farmington Hills Branch and will include a guest presentation and slide show by a speaker from the Detroit Astronomical Society. A star show will follow with telescopes outside the library.
Registration is not required for this program. It will be presented at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 6.
"Young Adult Book Discussion" is a lively discussion of current books on the third Tuesday of each month, beginning Oct. 1, 15 from 4-5 p.m. at the Farmington Branch. There is a $9 fee for the paperbacks to be used.
Interested persons should register for this program by calling Denise Moll at 474-7770.
"Windpower Dynamics" will feature Mark Hassett, a wind and energy specialist from the Center for Utilization of Scientific Knowledge. He will speak on the practical application of wind-power and show slides.
No registration is needed for this program. Questions can be answered at 553-0300. This will be at Farmington Hills at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 20.

Promoted

John G. Christopher has been promoted to second vice president at Manufacturers National Bank of Detroit. A graduate of Eastern Michigan University, Christopher joined Manufacturers as a management trainee in 1969. He has been an assistant branch manager, mortgage administrator, branch manager and branch officer. Christopher is currently officer-in-charge of the bank's Orchard Lake-13 Mile office in Farmington Hills and is a member of the Kiwanis Club of North Farmington.

Stop smoking clinic slated

Two free introductory sessions on Oct. 5 and 6 will precede an October Stop Smoking Clinic sponsored by Providence Hospital's Community Education Department.

The program is offered through the American Health Foundation, and is taught by Don R. Powell, Ph.D. The approach is to neutralize a person's desire to smoke.

The five-day program costs $100. A free first meeting begins at 7:30 p.m. on the 8th floor of the Providence Medical Building. AHF offers a guarantee to participants that they can repeat the program if they revert to smoking.

For more information call Providence Hospital at 424-3068.
