

Continued from Page 3

date — obviously for sentimental reasons. And they were looking for a small reception hall where they could bring their own food and drink to save costs.

Instead, O'Connor and Ms. Deane will speak updated 16th-century vows in the garden of Addison Oaks, a Tudor-style mansion in Oxford where 150 guests will enjoy a buffet dinner. The date is June 12, the only day the hall was available.

"We didn't want our mothers running around worrying about coleslaw," explained O'Connor. "There would have been a lot of headaches. It's worth it not to have to worry about those things."

Instead of creating their own vows, the couple decided to go with those the Rev. Mackay Taylor offered from the "Book of Common Worship." Although 400 years old, the words "say what we feel" both agree.

Best man Dennis O'Connor and maid of honor Jan Mills will each read something special during the ceremony.

WHILE THE WEDDING will be a lot different than they first envisioned, all the decisions have been carefully worked out by the two of them. And

Please turn to Page 7

touch

Spring & Summer Brides

Congratulations on your approaching marriage. You want your wedding day to be perfect and a reflection of your individuality...and so do we at Jacobson's.

We invite you to consult with our bridal experts and make use of the many special services we offer to help make your wedding day a beautiful occasion.

Jacobson's

OPEN THURSDAYS AND FRIDAYS UNTIL 9:00 P.M.
WE WILL VALIDATE YOUR PARKING TICKET
BIRMINGHAM

We have all the extra details...

Kingsley Inn

WOODWARD AT LONG LAKE
BLOOMFIELD HILLS
644-1400