

Werkheiser-White

Denise Lynn White and Robert Edward Werkheiser were married by the Rev. Robert L. Jones in a double ring ceremony in Grove United Methodist Church, West Chester, Pa. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard White of Farmington Hills and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Werkheiser of West Chester.

The bride was attended by her sisters, Victoria White and Laurie White. Lynn Werkheiser, niece of the groom, served as flower girl.

Glenn Werkheiser was his brother's best man, and Mark Werkheiser, another brother of the groom, served as usher. Michael Werkheiser, nephew of the groom, was the ring bearer.

The couple received guests at a luncheon immediately following the ceremony in Fame Hall, West Chester, before leaving on a wedding trip to Florida.

They will make their home in Wagontown, Pa.

Waldron-Schaffer

Mr. and Mrs. H. Douglas Waldron of Farmington Hills announce the engagement of their daughter Julie Anne to Marc Alan Schaffer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil B. Schaffer of Huntsville, Ala.

The bride-to-be is a graduate of Harrison High School who will graduate from the University of Michigan with a degree in psychology in May. Her fiancé is a graduate of Grissom High School and took his degree from University of Michigan's School of Engineering.

An August wedding is planned in Nardin Park United Methodist Church.

Women salute spring for symphony benefit

Fashions for men and women, featuring spring and summer collections from American designers, brightens the winter scene, as the Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra and Hudson's present "Salute Spring," at 11 a.m. March 17 in Fairlane Manor.

The annual luncheon and fashion show benefit has an added bonus this year. Hal Oakley's "Salute to Broadway," a fast moving, high energy musical, presents the female lead costumes of top Broadway hit shows from 1937-57.

Art goes up for auction to benefit the center

Farmington Community Center, in conjunction with Oxford Art Galleries of Detroit, will present an art auction Saturday, March 6. The auction will feature distinctive oils, sculptures, lithographs, woodcuts, enamels and graphics.

All the artworks carry a certificate of authenticity and are auctioned below retail prices, according to Ruth Isaacs, representative of the gallery.

Prices range from $2,000 to $5,000 with many in the $20-$45 range. Ms. Isaacs said, "There will be abstract designs, posters for modern taste, wildlife and boating scenes, landscapes and seascapes, as well as original oils for the traditional viewer."

Art lovers may browse through a large display that includes works of Calder, Chagall, Alvar, Renoir, Rockwell, Miro, Boulanger, Vickers and Vasarely. Preview is 7-8 p.m., followed by the auction. Wine, champagne punch and hors d'oeuvres will be served throughout the evening.

Colorado artist Jim Boutwell's signed serigraph titled "Aspen Heights" will be the door prize. Boutwell uses silhouettes, geometric shapes and color to portray natural forms. His works are noted for their design, achieved from interplay of form and color.

The event is at Farmington Community Center, 24705 Farmington Road, north of 10 Mile Road. Donation is $1. No reservations are necessary.

General chairwoman Mary Lou Bagley promises "an exciting show saluting spring, the great American spirit and the classic American look."

Those who purchase patron and benefactor tickets will also enjoy an additional bonus. A "haffle" of Lebanese delicacies including tabbouleh and humus will be served by Heidi Brancheau Stein, owner of the Heidi's Salons' six locations around the suburbs. She is hosting the Patron Luncheon at noon Wednesday, Feb. 17, in her contemporary lakefront Wabeek home.

In Lebanon, when guests are invited for a traditional "haffle," they know their hostess has spent many days in preparation, planning and cooking. Ms. Stein will prepare the traditional dishes of her homeland for her guests.

TICKETS ARE priced at $22 for general admission, $35 for patrons and $75 for benefactors. The social hour begins at 11 a.m. followed by the fashion show and "Salute to Broadway."

For ticket information call Ida Krande, 851-4524. All proceeds benefit the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

Quilting classes to start

Mary King will offer two classes in quilting in Farmington Community Center this month. "Quilting Applique" begins at 10 a.m. Feb. 25. It is a four-session class for $24 plus $3 materials fee.

"Quilting Patchwork" begins at 10 a.m. Feb. 27 and is a four-session class for $24 plus $7 materials fee.

Ms. King will teach an array of stitches, drawing from her skill and knowledge of needlework techniques. Students will learn the proper method of reproducing patchwork designs, learning to copy many of the traditional patterns that are best loved and not copyrighted.

Registration for both quilting classes is at 24705 Farmington Road or by calling 477-8404 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. weekdays.

Mary King is a member of the Embroiderers Guild of America and has been teaching for several years.

Cancer society receives grant

A $5,000 grant has been awarded to the American Cancer Society by the trustees of the Skillman Foundation.

The grant was approved at a meeting of the foundation and will be used for cancer control activity through balanced programs of research, education, patient service and rehabilitation.

The society's public education programs help save lives by demonstrating simple ways to prevent some cancers and detect others early, when the chance of cure is greatest. The programs focus on six priority sites: lung, breast, colon-rectum, uterus, oral cavity and skin.

For cancer patients, the American Cancer Society offers a basic service program which includes information and guidance for the cancer patient and family, loans of sickroom supplies and comfort items such as hospital beds and wheelchairs for the home-bound patient.

Additionally, a variety of rehabilitation programs are available to patients, offering psychological and physical assistance to improve the quality of life.
