

Lutheran students make best of bad incident

Lemke was struck on the side of the head with the barrel of a sawed-off shotgun by one of the four young men all described as black and in their late teens.

Lemke gave the men money from his wallet. After robbing the cheerleading instructor, Jan Burmeister, one of the suspects who was dressed in a trench coat went down the aisle with a navy blue satchel collecting purses, wallets and jewelry from students.

MORE MONEY than the almost $200 reported stolen would've been taken, Lemke said, but some students hid their belongings under seats and sat on their jewelry without being detected.

On the way out of the bus the four demanded Lemke's empty wallet. When Lemke protested that they already had his money, he was hit again, this time with the butt of the sawed-off shotgun.

No students were struck or harmed in the robbery, according to witnesses, even though another suspect was armed with a hunting knife.

Doyle renamed to Delta board

Farmington resident Louis C. Doyle was recently re-elected to the board of directors of Delta Dental Plan of Michigan at the corporation's annual meeting. He was elected for a three-year term.

Doyle is a consultant to Health Alliance Plan in Detroit and is a former Chrysler Corp. executive. He is also involved with the Republican Party of Oakland County and the Republican Party 17th Michigan Congressional District organization. He has been on Delta's board since 1977.

Delta, a nonprofit service corporation, is the state's largest dental benefits administrator. Its programs cover more than 1.5 million people.

restaurant, he said, and the Eight Mile-Greenwood location seemed a logical choice.

"It was well-lit, crowded with people and the first one accessible for us on the way home."

Despite the unfortunate incident, Lemke said the robbery hasn't soured students on Detroit or blacks in general. He said students and faculty met in the chapel Monday to offer a prayer of thanksgiving that there were no serious injuries to anyone.

"I see the hand of God in this," Lemke said. "He didn't allow things to go any farther."

School Principal Clay Hufnagel said he hopes the public remembers the incident by recalling how students chose to forgive their assailants.

"We offer our prayers of forgiveness for those people," Hufnagel said. "We don't know why the Lord did it but there is a reason."
