Modeling class set

Marlene Coffey a former professional model and fashion coordinator, will repeat her class in Teen Modeling in the Farmington Community Center. The summer session, shortened and scheduled to accommodate the active young person, is offered in six sessions, from 10:30 a.m. to noon beginning Wednesday, June 23. Successive classes are scheduled for June 28 and 30, July 7, 12 and 14.

Coffey's professional advice will include every phase of modeling including how to work the runway, models' poses, hesitation and pivot, as well as sessions on skin care, makeup, exercises, posture and wardrobe planning. Participants will gain poise and self-confidence as they continue to practice Coffey's techniques.

Registration is in the center, 24705 Farmington Road.

Golfers called for benefit

Our Lady of Sorrows' annual women's golf outing is set this year for June 29 at Farmington Country Club, with a deadline entry date set for June 1.

The four-woman team scramble is open to all area golfers. The $25 entry fee includes golf, cart, lunch and a chance at prizes, with all proceeds earmarked to aid the church's handicapped and senior citizens' programs.

Checks are to be made payable to Our Lady of Sorrows Catholic Church. The check is to be sent with handicaps or average 9-hole score to Theresa Church, 35564 Heritage Lane, Farmington 48024.

Church will take inquiries by calling her at 478-6522.

Timely response to popular demand.
$139.50

With its solid oak case and brass finished dial, this mantle clock looks a good bit more expensive than it really is. Westminister chimes play every quarter hour. No wonder! Century-bury, with its reliable battery movement, is among the most popular Howard Miller makes. An extraordinary mantle clock value. Reg. $189.50
