

Leslie-Hall

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Leslie of Decker, Mich., announce the engagement of their daughter Robbie to Brian Kevin Hall of Northville.

The bride-to-be is a graduate of Eastern Michigan University. Her fiancé is an accounting student at Eastern Michigan University, employed with Touche Ross Inc.

A June wedding is planned.

Cox-Peterson

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cox of Westborough, Mass., announce the engagement of their daughter Nancy to Mark Peterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Peterson of Farmington Hills.

The bride-to-be and her fiancé are both members of the U.S. Navy, presently stationed in San Diego, Calif.

A July wedding is planned.

State Questors to aid museum restoration

The 20 members who make up the Quakertown Chapter of Questors already have given $1,000 to aid in the restoration of Farmington Historical Museum.

Now the questors of antiques have convinced the Michigan Questors to take on the museum as a state project.

"It will mean about another $1,500 for the museum," said Bea Keeler, speaking for the local chapter. "That's about the price of a chandelier we've designated for purchase with the gift."

Members of Quakertown each donate an antique to be put up for auction as their major fund-raising effort each year.

Meetings are regularly held in one another's homes, but this week members met to dine in the old mansion-turned museum when they made the announcement of the pledged chandelier.

Alternative living offered to seniors

Alternative Living Consultants for Older Adults is a new service, a first of its kind in Michigan, which offers optional residences for those living alone.

The service operates with social gerontologists who screen clients to form an available pool from which to choose roommates.

"Whether the need be friendship, an escape from loneliness, someone to share the costs or whatever, when two people share, their options can be greatly expanded," said Mert Buchanan.

She and Nanee Ferrell own and operate the private pay service. The two screen histories of their clients to "get a match," Buchanan said. "We generally advise our clients to try a weekend or two of living with their match to see if it takes," she said.

A portion of the $50 initial fee is refunded if a match can't be made or is unsatisfactory.

The service is open from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Wednesdays and Thursdays at 3858 12 Mile Road, Berkeley, for all Wayne, Oakland and Macomb County residents.

Inquiries will be taken by calling 548-1285.
