

Musician Suzanne McCallum dies

A long battle against cancer has ended for Suzanne F. McCallum, who was well known among those involved in music in Farmington and surrounding areas.

A music teacher and past president of the Farmington Musicale, McCallum, 56, died Saturday in the Farmington home where she had lived for 25 years.

She had recently been in Grace Hospital-Northeast branch for treatment of the disease that first struck her 17 years ago but never kept her from taking an active role in community life.

Her husband Neil, daughters Laurie McCallum and Heidi VilleMonte and sons Robert and John held a home visitation this week. Heene-Sundquist Funeral Home handled cremation arrangements.

McCallum had taken part in a wide variety of musical endeavors.

A graduate of the Eastman School of Music in Rochester, she taught music in the Rochester, Detroit and Farmington school districts and also at Sacred Heart Academy, Bloomfield Hills.

She taught piano and served as accompanist at various times for high school choruses in Farmington and Birmingham. She also played accompaniment for dozens of music students participating in competitions or auditioning for awards and scholarships.

"SHE LOVED doing the accompaniment for young artists," said Lois Swanson of Livonia, current president of the Farmington Musicale. "One year when I was lining up my students I asked her what her fee was. She said she loved doing it and really wanted only a thank-you note."

With the music, she was director of its chorus and frequent performer as well as officer.

"We had talked during the summer about this year's Christmas program," Swanson noted. "She thought we had a good chance for a strong chorus of 20 members, and we're going to try to do it that way because it was what she wanted. She also was always encouraging and very kind to younger members of our group when they performed."

McCallum provided piano accompaniment for the Farmington Players' production of "Guys and Dolls" two years ago and "The Power of 11 All," a musical presented in connection with Farmington's Sesquicentennial celebration in 1974.

IN RECENT YEARS, she added to her activities care for homeless animals.

Most friends and acquaintances were convinced stray dogs and cats knew instinctively where they could find lodging. She found homes for many and arranged for neutering of others so they could be adopted.

Besides her husband and children, McCallum leaves two granddaughters, Lisa and Emille VilleMonte, a sister, June Brogren of St. Elmo, Minn. and two aunts.

Suzanne McCallum

The family has requested that memorials be sent to the Farmington Musicale Scholarship Fund, 31221 Applewood, Farmington Hills, The Oakland Animal Shelter, Box 1134, Birmingham, or the Michigan Cancer Foundation, 845 W. Huron, Pontiac.

Immunization clinic planned

The Oakland County Health Division will offer an immunization clinic for Farmington and surrounding communities at the William Grace Elementary School, 29040 Shilawasee, from 9 a.m. to noon Oct. 14. This clinic was formerly held at the Shilawasee Elementary School.

Immunizations for measles, German measles, mumps, polio, diphtheria, tetanus and whooping cough are available.

A parent or guardian must accompany the child under 18 years of age and bring any previous records of immunizations, including any letters from school.

The next scheduled immunization clinic is Dec. 9, same location and time. For further information, call 424-7000.
