

Judge Schaeffer takes BPW honors

Margaret G. Schaeffer, Judge of the 47th District Court, was named "Distinguished Women of the Year" by the Farmington area branch of Business and Professional Women (BPW). She was among the guests of honor when BPW's District IX chapters recognized the accomplishments of one another's chosen "Distinguished Women." The district includes clubs in Farmington, Livonia, Northville, Novi, Plymouth, Wayne, Westland, Garden City, South Redford and Lola Valley.

Schaeffer has served the district as its judge since 1975. Prior to that she was a member of the Workers' Compensation Appeal Board for Michigan and engaged in private legal practice with the firm of Markle and Markle in Detroit.

From 1973-74 she was a member of the Farmington Hills Council and before that a trustee for Farmington Township.

She is a member of the Farmington Branch American Association of University Women (AAUW), a former member of Farmington Hills Beautification Committee and a former director of Farmington Community Center.

Among her awards is a named gift, made by AAUW to its Education Foundation Fellowship Program in recognition of significant service to the Farmington community.

THE FARMINGTON Branch BPW meets on the first Tuesday of every month for a dinner meeting, and welcome newcomers who are actively engaged in business or the professions. President of the club for the season is Cheryl Griffin.

BPW is a non-partisan, non-sectarian, non-profit, self-supporting and self-governing organization of about 177,000 working women.

Judge Margaret Schaeffer, Farmington Business and Professional Women's choice for "Distinguished Women of the Year," is flanked by Betty Brown (left), and Cheryl Griffin. Brown is a member of the Farmington Club and director for the organization's District IX. Griffin is president of the Farmington Club.

The group aims to elevate the standards for women in business and the professions, and to promote the interests of these working women.

It further aims to bring about a spirit of cooperation among the members and to extend opportunities to members along the lines of industrial, scientific and vocational activities.

Career development, personal improvement, women's awareness, community consciousness, legislative involvement, continuing education, policy making and business contacts are some of the opportunities the club offers.

The national group has established numerous scholarships and fellowships, and supports training centers on an international level.

Griffin will take inquiries at 477-4067.

Eye-catching uniforms for Israel's new 'tourist patrol' will be part of the fashion parade during the 1982 Israel Bond Fashion Show and Brunch Buffet Oct. 28 in Congregation Shaarey Zedek. The fashions pictured are by designer Finy Leitersdorf.

Brunch buffet is appetizer for international fashions

A brunch buffet and installation of officers will precede the Thursday, Oct. 28 Israel Bond Fashion Show at Congregation Shaarey Zedek in Southfield.

The event opens at 10:30 a.m. with the fashion presentation displaying haute couture from internationally known Israeli designers. Fashion co-chairmen are Linda Bloch of Birmingham and Linda Goldsmid of Bloomfield Hills.

Design talent and craftsmanship from 70 lands helped forge Israel's fashion industry. Manufacturers included in the Oct. 28 show include: Bege-Or, Biba, Gottex, Rikma, Dorina of Israel, Gaby Model, Helen Knits and Pappo.

A sampling of designers includes: Oded Gera, Stefan Braun, Flay Leitersdorf, Jerry Melitz and Gideon Oberson.

Doreen Hermelin of Birmingham will accept the chairman's gavel of the Metro Detroit Israel Bonds Women's Division from Leah Silder, present chairman.

Silder's service will be recognized with the presentation of the 1982 Lithograph Award in appreciation of her dedicated leadership. The litho is one of a numbered series produced exclusively for Israel Bonds' women's division by Israeli artist Menashe Kadishman.

Hermelin, a native Detroit, attended the University of Colorado. She is the wife of David B. Hermelin, an insurance executive, and Israel Bonds national campaign co-chairman.

The Hermelins are parents of five children: Marcie, Karen, Brian, Julie and Francine.

The chairman-elect is vice president of membership of Congregation Shaarey Zedek Sisterhood; chairman of Orchard's Children's Service of the National Council of Jewish Women, and a member of the NCJW, Detroit Section board.

She is also affiliated with Sinai Hospital Women's Guild as a board member and is on the fund-raising board of the Women's Division of Allied Jewish Campaign.

Hermelin has been a member of B'nai B'rith for more than 20 years; holds membership in Hadassah, Mirzachi Women, Bar-Ilan University Auxiliary, the Women's Guild of Cranbrook Art Institute, the Meadowbrook Art Gallery and is a trustee of the Michigan Opera Theatre.

She has served on the board of United Hebrew Schools, the Detroit Region Board of Women's American ORT, and the Women's Division of the Jewish Welfare Federation.

Together, the Hermelins are supportive of many philanthropies and institutions, including the Jewish National Fund, Hebrew University and Ben Gurion University.

Admission is by a minimum $500 1982 bond purchase. For information and reservations, call the bond office at 557-2900.

Band strikes up for 17th season

George Gershwin's popular tune "Strike Up The Band" will get this year's concert series off to a rousing start for the Farmington Community Band.

"An Evening With Rodgers and Gershwin" will include many all-time favorites by two of America's most loved composers.

The season's opening concert begins at 8 p.m. Oct. 26 in the Harrison High School Auditorium, 29995 12 Mile.

The band's founder and conductor, R. Paul Barber, has chosen such familiar selections as: The King and I, Victory at Sea, Porgy and Bess and An American in Paris.

The Farmington Community Band, beginning its 17th season of concerts, has another line up of programs including a St. Patrick's Day salute and a second edition of the Valentine's dinner-dance Feb. 11.

Concert tickets will be available at the door. Donations are $1 for students and seniors; $2 for adults and $5 for an entire family.

Season tickets are $10, which will admit a family to all concerts. The names of families buying season tickets will be listed in all printed programs as Farmington Community Band patrons.

Following the morning tour, visitors will lunch on their own in Birmingham in a two-block area which includes seven restaurants. A list of fine eateries will be provided.

The trip continues in the afternoon with a guided tour of the Shrine of the Little Flower. The Shrine was first built and dedicated in the name of Therese Martin, canonized in the 1900s. St. Therese of Lisieux was a talented and lovable French girl who died in 1897 having, in a brief 24 years, attained extraordinary conformity to the gospel. She often referred to herself as a "Little Flower."

'Try College for a Day'

Fifty-two instructors will welcome guests into their classrooms for students to see what it's like to be back in school during "Try College for a Day" on Orchard Ridge Campus, Oakland Community College.

The open house is sponsored by the college's Womencenter from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. and 6-10 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 28.

Guests can make out their own schedule, attend classes of their own interest and come at whatever time is convenient.

The Farmington Community Center's "Church Grandeur in Detroit Suburbs" tour Tuesday, Nov. 2

The trip begins at 10 a.m. when the bus leaves the Oakland Community College parking lot for Bloomfield Hills where the Kirk in the Hills is situated amid the rolling hills, surrounded by gardens and grounds on 40 acres bordering Inland Lake. The Kirk is unique in its Gothic design, which includes an elaborate stained-glass collection depicting the life of Christ and the world's largest carillon of 77 cast bells.

THE CHURCH was patterned after Scotland's famed Melrose Abbey and required 11 years to complete.

Comedy spy spoof
