Mercy muzzles Bulldogs

By C.J. Rissk staff writer

The fast break is the quickest weapon in baskethall. When a team has it working properly, it can bury its opponeat fast and deep.
But when the running game isn't functioning, when it's out of sync, roles can just as quickly be reversed.
Thesday night, Livonia Beniley tried to run against Farmington Our Ledy of Mercy in the state girls-baskethall district semilinals at Redford Thurston.
The result: a few baskets, lobs of turnovers and a 44-35 Mercy triumph.
In the second context of wealing,
Farmington Harrison experienced littion, 66-26, to earn a spot opposite Mercy in an all-Farmington district final last night.

THE BENTLEY-MERCY game was tight until the fourth quarter, when the Bulldogs went ice cold. The Marlins scored seven unanswered points to stretch a two-point lead to nine. Sarah Basford hit a pair of short jumpers to spark the surge. Beniley, meanwhile, was scoreless until just 2.07 remained. That's when Kim Archer hit a bucket for the Bull-dogs, but it was far too little and much Rim Archer hit a blacket for the suidogs, but it was far too little and much too late.

"The hig thing was, we never left our game plan," said winning coach Larry Baker, "Which was too the suidout the said winning coach Larry Baker, and the said with a was too front of the tempo offensively.

"I wanted to stay even with them and then get them in the fourth quarter. What surprised me was we got them in the third quarter. Mercy's full-court pressure took its toll on Bentley, particularly in the ply-told the surprise of the ond jumper of the quarter with 5:49 to play, it was Mercy that was six points up. The junior had six points in the quarter, with Amy DeMattia pouring in seven and Carolya Burt adding six.

Archer then heated up, going up and down the court like a demon possessed. She rebounded at both ends of the court and led the break, scoring eight points in the final 5:07 of the third quarter, single-handedly keeping the Buildogs within a field goal going into the final eight minutes.

The third quarter was terrible for us," Bentley coach Ton Lang sald. Just terrible, That we haven't played the same than the same than the same to the same to the same two players. Archer and (Laurice) Day, No one else has come through."

Against Mercy, it, was just Archer, who finished with 16 points. Beth Barnes added eight. Bentley Jinished the season with an 18-4 mark.

Mercy was 1ed by Basford's 15 points, with Burt netting 10 and De-Mattia nine.

THE HARRISON-RU matchup, lacked just about everything the Mexicy-Bentley game had. The Hawks blaw the young Panthers off the court, surging from a 16-10 first-quarter lead to a 34-18 advantage at the half. It was 55-24 at the end of three, and by game's end every Hawk played and scored.

The one quality the games shared was a spectacular one-person show. Archer provided it in the first game, and Alice Short did it in the second. Short displayed her outstanding outside jumphocing ability, pumping in 23 points, including 11-0f-23 from the field.

"We realized that Carrie Stinchcomb was the one who made their team go," said Grodzicki. "She's awesome. So we played a real agressive, man-to-man defense on her and kept her outside and let her whost all she wanted.

"I don't know what her stats from the floor were.

She missed a few, but she made up for it by going 10 for 10 from the line."
West Bloomled's game-long press took its toll in the form of North Farmington turnovers.
"That was the one bad thing." Groticki said.
"We turned the ball over too many times. I'd say we gave them 10 points off that press."
West Bloomfield closed out a 14-7 season under
