

Introduce a friend to someone who knew Picasso. Share a truly Victorian Christmas story. Written by, yes, Queen Victoria. Give the book Jackie Onassis wanted your friends to have. Think about everything you never ordered from Neiman-Marcus. Show someone the incredible truth about Little Red Riding Hood.

His & Hers: The Fantasy World of the Neiman-Marcus Catalogue
The expert, Stanley Marcus, takes you on a tour of 25 years' worth of marvelous gifts.
$25

American Decorative Arts: 360 Years of Creative Design
Text and pictures detail the entire range of American design, from the stiffer crafts of 1820 to the sophisticated doubleportal gate of the New York capital in 1981.
$65

Steuken Glass
This is a complete catalog of Steuben glass from 1933 to the present, in 1,100 photos and 1,500 line drawings: a history of the company.
$55

The Firebird and Other Russian Fairy Tales
Edited by Jacqueline Ottens, who wanted to see this marvellously illustrated work "in a format accessible to the public."
$16.95

The National Museum of Natural History
With 350 color photos, this book takes you on tour of this wonder-filled museum at the Smithsonian Institution.
$60

Boris Godunov
Alexander Pushkin's classic, with 26 five-color illustrations resembling miniature icons. Here is the flavor and temper of czarist Russia.
$19.95

A Christmas Treasury
Queen Victoria, O. Henry, Dylan Thomas, James Thurber, E.B. White, Betty Smith, dozens of others tell holiday stories that have year-round endurance.
$19.95

Brassai: The Artists of My Life
The Hungarian-born photographer has been a close friend of the artists whose work you love. He shows you his intimate impressions of them.
$45

Secrets of the Gnomes
Illustrator Ron Fowthell and writer Val Hargan let mushrooms and cream and became gnomes. They learned, among other things, all about Little Red Riding Hood.
$19.95

Henri Rousseau
This is a glorious book dedicated to the renowned French artist.
$75

bookpeople

Clarendon Mall • West Bloomfield • 851-9150
Mon-Fri. 10:30-6:00, Sat. 10:00-6:00, Sun. 12-5