

Pets pay a visit

The newest program initiated for residents of Oak Hill Nursing Home is 'Pet Day' when animals — large and small — come to visit. Neil Trud (seated) is introduced to a cat held by Cindy Donovan and a dog led by her husband Jim, who will make a round of visits to those who are confined. Dr. John Richardson, a veterinarian who has offices in Farmington, started the program off by setting up an aquarium and a cageful of gerbils in the home. Now, some of his clients are offering their pets for the 'Pet Day' outing.
