

Men's Club will host broadcaster Harwell

The Farmington Senior Men's Club has undergone some changes to make it available to more men in surrounding areas. The group will now be called the Farmington Men's Club with participation open to all men interested in meeting for lunch and conversation coupled with programs on a variety of topics.

Monthly meetings begin at noon on the third Thursday of each month.

Guest speaker for the Jan. 20 meeting is Ernie Harwell, known as "the voice of the Detroit Tigers." Harwell is one of the real veterans of baseball broadcasting.

His radio-television career dates back to 1940, when at the age of 22 he originated a nightly sports news broadcast for an Atlanta radio station. He later moved on to coverage of several college football teams.

In 1948 Harwell began play-by-play broadcasting for the major leagues starting with the Brooklyn Dodgers. Two years later he moved to the New York Giants, then the Baltimore Orioles. In 1960 Harwell was appointed as play-by-play broadcaster for the Detroit Tigers.

Harwell's successful career includes the broadcasting of several championship games, the World Series and two All Star Games. In 1981, he was inducted into the Hall of Fame and received the Ford C. Frick Award.

Ernie Harwell

Harwell will have numerous tales of his career to share. His program will be followed by lunch and conversation. Lunch reservations are $3 and should be made in advance by calling the Farmington Community Center, 477-8404.
