

Pioneer Women gives 770 education grants

Higher education grants were recently awarded to 770 women attending more than 50 institutions of higher learning in Israel by Pioneer Women/Na'Amat, according to local council president Evelyn Novack.

The grants were awarded by the organization's Perpetual Scholarship Fund.

Recipients, among whom are 14 Araba and Druze women, came from 97 towns, 56 moshavim (collective farms) and 10 villages throughout Israel.

Almost 2,000 applications were received. Among them, 25 percent of the winners are majoring in teaching and education, 10 percent in engineering and technology, 5 percent in agriculture, and almost 3 percent each in medicine, mathematics and physics.

Scholarship judges awarded extra points to women who plan to enter male-dominated fields and to older women who are resuming their studies.

Anyone wishing to endow a scholarship in honor or in memory of a loved one can call Betty Rath of Farmington, National Perpetual Scholarship Chairman, or the Pioneer Women office at 957-4750.

Workshop set for singles

Oakland University Continuum Center offers a workshop for single people from 7:30-10:30 p.m. beginning March 10 in the Church of Our Savior, West Bloomfield Township.

The seven-session program focuses on building self-esteem. Structured activities are used to help single people learn more about themselves and how they relate to others. In addition, everyone has an opportunity to get individual attention in smaller groups.

The workshop fee is $65. Pre-registration is required by calling Continuum Center, 377-3033.

Blau wins membership
