

Tyndale cagers split in Chicago

William Tyndale College's basketball players had some pressing business in suburban Chicago last weekend. The Lancers returned Sunday night with a win and a loss to show for their efforts.

Tyndale, located in Farmington Hills, couldn't seal the Lancers' pressure defense and lost, 91-78, Friday. "Niles had a real effective half-court trap," said Tyndale coach Craig Mays. "They took us right out of our game."

Tyndale's Terry Juchartz, a 6-foot senior guard, scored 26 points, and 6-2 sophomore Dave Routledge added 21. Mark Villerossa, a 6-foot guard, scored 27 points for Niles, which held a five-point (46-41) halftime lead.

Saturday, Tyndale defeated Emmaus College, 86-81, in Oak Park, Ill. Emmaus also used a press, but it was nothing Tyndale couldn't handle.

Emmaus pressed the whole game, but we were able to cope with it this time," Mays said. "Emmaus was a smaller team than Niles, and we were able to pass over the press."

Juchartz led the Lancers with 24 points, and teammate Mike Mowry added 23. Routledge, a sophomore who played his high school basketball at Southfield Christian, scored 19 points, blocked five shots and picked off three enemy passes.

Tyndale takes to the bus again Friday when it heads for Grand Rapids School of Bible and Music. The Grand Rapids school is led by Jeff Stackhouse, a 6-2 sharpshooter, who is averaging more than 40 points a game.

Grand Rapids trimmed Tyndale, 115-96, in November when they played in Farmington Hills.

Last time we played, we put a box-and-one defense on Stackhouse," Mays said. "I had my best defensive player (Routledge) guarding him and he still scored 44 points."

Tyndale's next home game is Friday, Feb. 18 against Vpiantil Pathway College. The game starts at 7:30 p.m. at Warner Middle School.

Thriller!

Last-second bucket lifts Country Day

They'll be talking about this game for a long time at Detroit Country Day.

The Yellowjackets received a pressurized 20-foot shot at the buzzer by Reggie "Ice Man" Holmes to upset highly ranked Oak Park in an exciting high school basketball game Tuesday at the DCD gym.

Country Day trailed by one point with four seconds left. However, they earned a jump ball near the Oak Park basket which set up the final hectic play.

After Holmes' shot swished through the net, the hometown fans went wild while Oak Park crumpled in stunned silence at the other end of the floor.

Oak Park, ranked among the top three class B schools, is now 13-2 for the season. Country Day, a strong contender for the state class C title, is now 12-2 overall.

That last-second shot was real exciting," said DCD coach Kurt Keener. "In the five years I've been here we've never been in a situation where we had the last shot to win it like that."

Actually, the tip play at the end was designed to have gone to Richard Goldberg," he said. "But, we lost it and Reggie reacted well enough to come up with the loose ball and get the shot off."

Goldberg, a junior guard, led the DCD scoring with 11 points. Jones added 10 points and Chuck Adams had eight points and 18 rebounds. Holmes finished with six points.

Country Day, which had a 31-23 half-time advantage, outscored Oak Park 11-8 in the final quarter. The Redskins did not score a point in the game's final three minutes.

"We got some big calls go our way late in the game," said Keener. "We got lucky at the end and the good teams have to depend on a certain amount of luck."

Meet our new construction superintendant.

She's on the job rain or shine. Checking her plan. For the perfect house, her way. You see, she just purchased a wonderful Harman Frankel home.

Margaret has this home to suit her inimitable lifestyle, so she's made a few changes. She's a gourmet cook and the kitchen must be just right. The closets suit her, but only she knows how to accommodate 50 pair of shoes. So this super does a super job of planning.

You can be a superintendant too. When you buy a Harman Frankel single family home or condo. Come out and work with us. We know how to accommodate a lady's plans.
