

Acronauts host Durbin gym meet

Fernside High School will be the site of the sixth annual Durbin Invitational Gymnastics Meet this weekend.

The meet, scheduled for both Saturday and Sunday, will be hosted by the Acronauts Parents Club of Bloomfield Hills, which is coached by Steve Whitlock.

More than 400 United States Gymnastics Federation (USGF) competitors from more than 26 teams representing Michigan and five other states are expected.

"We receive calls about this meet from teams as far away as California," Renee Durbin, the meet director, said. The events will include competition on the balance beam, uneven parallel bars, vaulting and floor exercises. Participants will range in age from 9 to 17 years, with their abilities ranging from beginners to pre-elite.

Individual medals, ribbons and team trophies will be presented. The meet will be highlighted Sunday by the pre-elite (advanced gymnasts) competition.

The meet begins 9:30 a.m. Saturday and will run until 9 p.m. Sunday's competition begins at 10 a.m. and ends at 6 p.m.

The meet is hosted by the Durbin Company, Realtors. Admission will be charged at the door.

U.S. SKIING UPDATE

Steven Ludwig of Farmington Hills is one of five men skiers from the Elite Class named to the United States Ski Association's Citizen Racing Team.

The race pitted the finest recreational skiers from across the country in the Citizen Critterium Race held Jan. 28 at Crested Butte, Colo. The top five men and women from each race were named to the team. Ludwig finished second.

The modified giant slalom race met FIS standards, and more than 1,500 skiers attended. The race was part of the 17th annual USSA National Ski Week.

The USA Citizen Racing Team is qualified to race in Europe, should they have the opportunity. West Bloomfield's Tom O'Rourke finished eighth overall in the men's Elite race.

Among the top finishers in the men's Class A race were Brian Uhley (second) of Farmington Hills; Ken Robinette (eighth) of Bloomfield Hills; and Jack Cook (ninth) of Troy.

Mark Freedman of Southfield, Patrick Callahan and Dennis Alberta of Franklin, Susan Cantor of Farmington Hills, Karen Brown of Auburn Heights, Paul Demerit and Nancy Malak of Rochester and Donice Fillet of West Bloomfield were the area's representatives in various other races.

During D'Angelo's six-year coaching tenure at CDCS his teams have won three conference crowns and have compiled a 36-15 overall record.
