Doggone it, there's a dog show too

IF YOU WANT to see a doggone good show during the Winter Carnival, you won't want to miss "Bark at Barnum."

"Bark at Barnum" is, of course, a dog show open to elementary school students and their faithful friends. This is the third year the Birmingham Youth Assistance is sponsoring the show and in years past, it has been a tail-wagging success.

"Last year we had 65 dogs entered," said organizer Jane Ward, a member of the Youth Assistance executive committee. "We send out application forms to the different schools and have the elementary school students return them."

Ward said that the "Bark at Barnum" show is noncompetitive fun for children and their friends. "Everyone wins a prize," she said. This year's show will be held at 2 p.m. Feb. 13 at room 141 of the former Barnum School, located at Purdy and Frank.

CATEGORIES INCLUDE "Best Behaved," "Funniest," "Best Trick," "Smallest," "Largest," "Best Looking," "Best Costume" and "Best of Show." Judges will be on hand from the Humane Society, a dog obedience school, the city commission and from a local veterinarian office.

Ward said that the show typically lasts an hour and a half, providing a lot of laughs for kids and adults as well. She said that children entering the show can sign up for two categories and that all dogs must be on a leash.

She also noted that other animals such as cats, turtles and fish, are not allowed in the show. "We think that dogs are enough to handle," she said.
