Freelancers workshop aids budding writers had many calls, and that's why they de-cided to schedule another one in April. Future plans call for workshops in In-diana, Tennessee and Minneapolis. Paul conducts her workshops under diana. Tennessee and Minneapolis. Paul conducts her workshops under The Writing Workshop logo.

What advice would Paul give to aspring writers?
What advice would Paul give to aspring writers?
And organization. She spends many hours researching her subject and intiverselves to the programment of the programment of the programment. If you organize your thoughts, your article is organized. Also identify three or four important points and deal with them. But above all writing is a matter of two things, knowing your markets and practice."
The main thrust of the workshop scheduled for April 30 will be how to find markets, tailoring writing for particular markets and discovering the right market for your needs.
Paul said the greatest mistake a writer makes is writing for a market without knowing the market's needs. It's like buying a present for an unknown. She also stressed that talent lone deem't make a writer, it takes practice, practice and more practice!
A person with less talent and a willingness to work will make it faster than one with talent and no modulation.

PAUL SAID that she especially enjoyed interviews. It's totally involved, exciting and intense, she said. When she interviewed an 60-year-old man, it was one of the highlights of her career. He was a recent widover hare his lunch in his small spartment. She was his first quest since he had been wid-owed and the experience was one Paul will slways remember.

She said that writers must care about what they write and must solve their problems beforehand. She had a way of solving her writing problems—she would take her dog for a walk. Now the dog is gone, and she must think of another way, she said.

That's one of the problems of being a writer, we don't get away from our work, if we're not writing, we're reading or doing researchee writers, their home is the fifter.

home is their office.*

IN PALIZ GASE, both her husband,
Tom Nicely, and she work at home.

Nicely is an antiquarian book dealer in Ann Arbor, and their 100-year-old farm house is the location of the book store, as well as serving as their respective offices.

Recently they co-authored an article about old books which appeared in the Detroit News Sunday magazine last month. The six-month bride of Nicely, Paul has two step-daughters, Alexis, 13 and Megan, 16.

Gospel music

Toby and Barb Waldowski who are heard regularly on Robert Shuler's "Hour of Power" sing in a concert of Christian music at 7 p.m. Sunday, April 17, in Faith Covenant Church, 35415 14 Mill. Toby Waldowski is a planist as well as composer and arranger of Gospol music. Admission is without charge. A free will offering will be asked.

Catch a Bass!

0% Q

The Bass are Running this month!

Every pair of Bass shoes are 10 to 50% OFF That's right, 10 to 50% OFF all Basi shoes. Including the famous Weejuns, Tack II's and Weejun Soft. Hurry on down to Excalibur Shoes and catch a pair.

Orchard Mail • West Bloomfield € 851-5122 • Sun. 12-5

SOMERSET STREET OF GLASS A SALUTE TO MICHIGAN GLASS MONTH

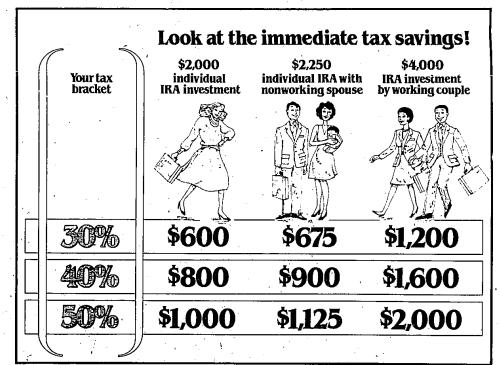

Works by Michigan Glass Artists In the Stores and Display Windows Throughout the month of April.

SOMERSET MALL BIG BEAVER ROAD AT COOLIDGE, TROY

If you act now, an IRA at NBD can save you up to $2,000 on your 1982 taxes.

Think about it

Think about it.
Every cent you're allowed to contribute to an IRA before April 15 can be deducted from gross income on your 1982 taxes. As the chart shows, that can add up to big savings indeed.
NBD offers a variety of excellent

IRA investment plans ranging from an 18-month variable interest account to 18- and 30-month fixed rate accounts, na addition, you can choose from our 5, 4- and 5-year IRA investment plans with yields that are among the most competitive around.

We also have simple interest loans available to fund your 1982 IRA contributions. And remember, the interest on the loan is also tax deductible. Visit NBD now See how NBD can help you beat the taxman on April 15th.

30

