

That's some dinosaur

Third graders over at William Grace Elementary made sure that their contribution to this year's science fair would be noticed. On display tonight will be their 17-foot-long dinosaur named Dino, of

Standing in the background watching this whopper develop is teacher Sandy Rogers.

Red Cross seeks blood

In an effort to avoid shortages this summer, the American Red Cross, Southeastern Michigan Blood Services Region is opening its Detroit Blood Center every Saturday during June. The center, at 100 Mack Ave. between Woodward and John R., will be open for donations between 9 a.m. and 2 p.m. on Saturdays in June. The center is also open Monday, Wednesday and Friday 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and Tuesday and Thursday 12 p.m. to 6 p.m.

Blood can be donated by anyone between the ages 17 and 65 in general good health and weighing at least 110 pounds. The entire donation process, including a free mini-physical, takes about an hour.

Building Character Qualities

The entire curriculum of Novi Christian School is thoroughly Christian. Biblical in its precepts, it offers young people the challenge of using God given leadership qualities and abilities. A dress code which emphasizes good grooming and modesty is coupled with a standard of high morality.

A State Convention, followed by a National Convention each spring, encourages competition in academics, athletics, play writing, acting, music, art, needle work, crafts, photography, poetry, and many other fields. Novi Christian School has received national recognition in several of these areas.
