

The Mercyaire, a singing and dancing traveling troupe from Our Lady of Mercy High School, came home from Danny Mann's Great American Choral Festival winners of the third prize in the choreographed youth category. "That makes us $2,500 richer and the third best group in the nation," said Harry Teevens, music director for the school and director of the 16 teens who make up The Mercyaire.

"The Callers Chorale (from Oakland, Calif.) took the first prize of $10,000 and rightly so. They are an all black group that sang and danced like the Magic Johnsons of the rock world," Teverson said.

Second-place winners in that category was the West Covina High School Chamber Singers, also from California.

"But Michigan did itself proud."

Teevens said, "We were the only state to come in the money in all categories."

Interlochen Arts Academy Chorale took the first-place spot in the non-choreographed category for youth.

The Wayne State University Men's Glee Club and "Meadow Brook Estate" both came in the money for the competition between college, university and adult chorales

The weekend of competition was the last event on the calendar for the teens who make up the 1982-83 Mercvaires.

On their return home from Lansing, the traditional farewell dinner was given for girls and their parents. This week Teevens begins auditions for the young women who will make up the troupe for the 1983-84 season.
