Camp for asthmatics staffed by volunteers

Dr. Bruce Dubin of Farmington Hills will volunteer his services as medical director of Camp Sun Deer, a non-prof-it summer camp that is free of charge to area asthmatic children. The camp will be in session from Sunday to Saturwill be in session from sunoay to sautrady, July 2.

"Camp Sun Deer campers are treated to the same experiences as children who attend traditional camps," Dubin sald, "with the added support of trained medical professionals to help asthmatics adjust to the activities of their home away from home."

Campers will participate in an orga-nized schedule of activities including swimming, lishing, rope courses, arch-ery, arts and crafts, boating and other sports and games. There also will be special activities such as nature trail hikes, a crazy-Olympies day and a cook-out.

cook-out.

The camp will be staffed by volunteer physicians, nurses, pharmacists, respiratory therapists and recreational therapists trained in various camb activities. Medical care will be available around the clock.
