Holmes chief is honored

Raymond R. Reiger of Farmington Hills and president of Holmes Associates, a building products firm in Farmington Hills has been selected for advancement of Fellow of The Construction Specifications Institute.

He is being cited for his fiscal guidance of the Institute, particularly his concern and management of its financial affairs and for his continued leadership in his region and chapter.

The Construction Specifications Institute is a national technical society with headquarters in Alexandria, Va. The organization has more than 17,000 members in 137 cities of the United States and is dedicated to the improvement of construction documentation and communication and includes in its membership architects, engineers, specification writers, construction product manufacturers and contractors.

RIEGER, THE current treasurer of CSI has been active in the Detroit Chapter as director, treasurer, vice president, member and chairman of several chapter committees. He has been a member of the chapter since 1963.

At the region level he has been an active participant for a number of years in planning and managing region activities in the Great Lakes Region of CSI.

Reiger served as a member of the Institute Finance Committee in 1977-79 and is serving as Institute treasurer having been re-elected for his second consecutive two-year term in 1982.

Van needed for bike trip

Students are on the road again bicycling from Farmington to Mackinac City.

Three adults will chaperon 10 to 15 students ages 13 to 16 on the trip planned from Aug. 13-21. Banned Bikers Cycling Club sponsor Mary Har-mala plans to take between five and six days to meet their destination.

There's only one problem. They still need a van and a driver who is willing to join them on the trip.

For more information call Harmala at 478-9226.
