

CHILDREN'S THEATER—The Lilliputians, a dramatics group for second-graders and first graders in Farmington, includes Prince Charm and Charles Chine and step-sister Kristin Bock in its Cinderella cast.

A Farmington Fairy Tale

Once upon a time there was a troop of roving players.

They weren't very big, and they mostly roved around the neighborhood near Cloverdale School and Farmington and went to kindergarten and first grade there.

And they mostly played with bicycles and dolls.

But sometimes they sat with their teacher, Mrs. Jeannette Senob, and she showed them what it was like to pretend to be someone else and say the things that person would say. She said that it is called dramatics.

So the roving players thought about how Cinderella and her prince must have felt, and they made up a play about them and the step-mother and stepsisters and fairy godmother.

The play was so good that the other children at the school wanted to see it and the roving players' mothers made them beautiful costumes.

And the costumes were so pretty that Mr. Carl Senob, who is their teacher's husband, wrote some music about their Cinderella play, and he took some movies of them giving it. And a nice lady from the newspaper came to take pictures of them making the movie.

The roving players had so much fun that they are going to go right on seeing Mrs. Senob and writing more plays and acting them.

And we're sure they'll live happily ever after.

SCHOOLCRAFT'S SUMMER Court concerts open Wednesday with pianists Donald Morelock, standing, and Allen Shaffer presenting a recital. Tenor Edward Kingins, not pictured, will join the two in duets and songs by Schubert and Poulenc.

College Concerts Open Wednesday

This is the first of four July concerts. Music-goers will be moved indoors if bad weather develops.

The concert will be held on the courtyard, under the direction of Wayne Dunlap. All tickets are $1.50 at the door.

This year's festival is the second in a series that began last year. The Court orchestra is small—27 to 30 members—uses top Schoolcraft students, and members of the Detroit and Plymouth symphonies.

The "Summer Music Festival" will open under the stars Wednesday night on the campus of Schoolcraft College north of Six Mile Rd., on Haggerty Rd., in Livonia.

The programs start at 8:30. The first will feature two pianists, Allen Shaffer and Donald Morelock who will be joined by tenor Edward Kingins. They will present the music of Schubert and Poulenc.

ELIZABETH TAYLOR wears an ancient ceremonial headdress as part of a Kabuki costume during a scene from the film "Boon" now showing in the Quo Vadis theater. Richard Burton and Noel Coward also star in the film, along with Joanna Shimkus and Michael Dunn.

LIGHTS, CAMERA, ACTION—Carl Senob behind the camera takes a movie scene involving Christine Pavay, as Cinderella, Tracy Koupal as the fairy godmother and Karen LeGros as the stepmother.

Summer Students Plan 'Anything Goes' For July

The Livonia Summer Musical has begun production of Cole Porter's "Anything Goes," a seafaring musical comedy.

Guiding the rollicking ship "S.S. American" through the rough waves of a five-week rehearsal schedule are two theatrically-minded teachers, David Hirvela and Roy Ernst. Hirvela, a speech and drama instructor, came to Franklin High School after completing speech and drama work at the University of Michigan.

Ernst, the musical director, has been at Franklin High School for the last seven years and has developed the music department. Working closely with Hirvela and Ernst are additional production staff members. Ken Borsio will lead the students in dance across the stage as production choreographer. Set designer and technical director is R. William Joyner. James Joy, taking over as stage manager, also doubles as understudy for the male lead. Mrs. Janet Campbell is in charge of the costumes for the actors while Mrs. Shirley Perryman will supervise the make-up committee.

The workshop first won its reputation four years ago when Hirvela and Ernst produced the smashing hit "The Music Man." They have followed with "South Pacific" and "My Fair Lady."

The play will be presented to the public July 24 through 29, at Livonia Stevenson High School, W. Six Mile between Farmington and Levan. Tickets will be sold beginning July 10 at $2 per person.

The Stevenson box office will be open every day from 10-4; phone 261-1250, ext. 27. Tickets will be put on reservation.

Godfrey Will Play At Fair

Michigan State Fair entertainment, which has been free at the Music Shell and Coliseum, will all free this year, including the Grandstand Shows. This is announced by E.J. "Jeff" Keiras, the new general manager, who claims this should be the best entertainment program ever offered by the State Fair.

The 119th annual event will open Friday, Aug. 23, and continue through Sept. 2 (Labor Day).

The larger free entertainment program is a real bargain since it will be offered with no increase in the general admission price of $1.50 for adults, with children 12 and under free when accompanied by an adult.

Here's the lineup at the Music Shell: Friday, Aug. 23, through Sunday, Aug. 25 -- The Young Americans, the singing group which has been called "an explosion of happiness," plus Gladys Knight and the Pips, a top vocal quartet.

Monday, Aug. 26, through Wednesday, Aug. 28 -- Ed Ames, top singing star, plus Smokey Robinson and the Miracles, a foursome with a host of hit records.

Thursday, Aug. 29, and Friday, Aug. 30 -- The Cowells, a family which loves to sing and perform, and Arthur Godfrey, the old redhead who has been one of the top radio and television stars of all time.

Godfrey and his radio band will play matinee shows at the Music Shell on Aug. 29 and 30 and will perform with his horse "Goldie" at the Coliseum free horse shows on those evenings.

He will also be at the Coliseum for the afternoon and evening horse shows on Saturday, Aug. 31.

Saturday, Aug. 31, through Monday, Sept. 2 -- Frank Sinatra, Jr., along with Ballet America dance group and George Kirby and the Goldiggers, who are taking the Dean Martin spot on television this summer.
