

INSIDE ANGLES

THE FOUNDERS' FESTIVAL Parade was videotaped last Saturday by a new business in town called VTS, Inc. The letters stand for Video Tape Service, owned and operated by Dennis Tapper and Paul Rado, who will make copies of the tape for those who would like to watch it again by calling 478-8611.

PEOPLE WHO ARE curious about night creatures don't have to face the dark forest alone. Participants in "Night Hike," a public interpretive program at Independence Oaks County Park on Friday, will see a slide show and be guided through wooded trails. A naturalist will point out nocturnal creatures such as bats, lightning bugs and moths. With a little luck, perhaps a raccoon, deer or owl will make an appearance. The program runs 8:30-10 p.m. Cost is the park entry fee of $2.50 per vehicle for Oakland County residents and $4 for non-residents. Pre-registration is required. Independence Oaks is on Shashabaw Road, north of I-75 in Clarkston. To register and for more information, call 858-0903.

DELICIOUS, NUTRITIOUS, easy-to-fix salads can be created with a wide range of greens and vegetables. Try adding bite-sized pieces of spinach or chard to lettuce. That dab of cooked vegetable left from dinner can be refrigerated and added to tomorrow's salad. For example, a few cooked beets add both color and interest to a salad. Add bean sprouts or waterchests to scrambled eggs or cooked vegetables to an omelet or quiche. For further information, call the Oakland County Cooperative Extension Service at 858-0897.

CONGRATULATIONS to Timothy August Bodnar of Farmington, who graduated from Ohio
