FREDERICK SIEBERT, a 10-year veteran of public affairs in Farmington, did not file for re-

BALLOONS FLOATED high over Prince of Peace Lutheran Church in Farmington as the children in the Vacation Bible School participated in the annual launching. Each balloon contained a message and a request to call the church.

The Hemophilia Foundation helps provide training in the area of home care treatment. Diagnostic and evaluation clinics are available around the state. Any individual who has hemophilia, Von Willebrand's disease or any related blood disorder, and his or her family, is eligible for HFM services, including individual and family counseling. HFM also sponsors a residential summer camp for children with hemophilia, as well as sponsoring various research related to the disease. For further information contact the foundation at 1-800-452-3541.
