

'The Man from Home'

Shelrah Parvin of Lincoln Park (left), Cary Cornell of Allen Park, Henry Barnett of Westland and James Gillespie of Lincoln Park perform in "The Man from Home" at 8:30 p.m. Fridays-Saturdays through Saturday, Sept. 10, at the Henry Ford Museum Theatre, Greenfield Village in Dearborn. The early 20th century comedy is by Booth Tarkington and Harry Leon Wilson. Tickets at $4.75 are available daily from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the entrance to Greenfield Village or at the Museum theater box office one hour before each performance.

Interim House helps women

Christa and supportive counseling and financial assistance are a few of the services offered to battered women and their children by Interim House, a temporary shelter in Detroit. Any woman who has been physically abused by her husband or live-in boyfriend may call the organization for help at 962-5077. Professional counselors are on duty 24 hours a day, seven days a week. Group counseling service is offered at six YWCA branches throughout the tri-county area, one of them the North-west Branch YWCA in Redford Township.

"Good Sam" (1948), 11:40 p.m. today on Ch. 9. Originally 113 minutes. Disappointing describes this Leo McCarey comedy with Gary Cooper as an incurable good Samaritan. The rewards are few for both the audience and Cooper, and who wants to see Cooper taken advantage of by a host of moochers, while wife Ann Sheridan looks on disapprovingly. A complete waste of talent.
Rating: $1.30.

"Mr. Smith Goes to Washington" (1939), 1 p.m. Sunday on Ch. 50. Originally 129 minutes. Frank Capra films demand a certain amount of overacting. After all, they're more like fables than realistic portrayals of American lifestyles. Some of them may capture the essence of the American spirit, but there's nothing about them that should be confused for reality. And while Jimmy Stewart excels in Capra's "It's a Wonderful Life," he's absolutely awful in "Mr. Smith." Here's the difference: "Wonderful Life" involves ghosts and a voyage in time, while "Mr. Smith" is a would-be expose of corruption in Washington, D.C. Overacting goes with the fable and fantasy films, but not with an expose. Jean Arthur, Claude Rains and the Capra stable of Edward Arnold, Thomas Mitchell, Harry Carey and other familiar faces co-star.
Rating: $2.50.

"Anatomy of a Murder" (1959), in two parts at 1 p.m. Monday and Tuesday on Ch. 50. Originally 160 minutes. Director Otto Preminger keeps a close rein on Jimmy Stewart in this overly long but riveting courtroom drama. Although the subject matter was racy a generation ago, it smacks of standard soap opera fare today. Nonetheless, Stewart, Lee Remick, Ben Gazzara, George C. Scott, Arthur O'Connell and Murray Hamilton all give bravura performances and make "Anatomy" a film worth watching.
Rating: $3.15.

"The Kentuckian" (1955), 1 Wednesday night on Ch. 50. Originally 104 minutes. Walter Matthau is a super screen villain and Burt Lancaster a stalwart frontiersman in this entertaining adventure yarn. The film's a bit predictable but there's enough action to overcome that.
Rating: $2.80.
