

Crim race attracts 4,000-plus

Steve Kenyon, Greg Meyer, Herb Lindsay, Nick Rose, Kirk Pfeiffer, Dave Hine: the list reads like a who's who of world-class runners.

Those runners and some 4,000 more will be in Flint this weekend to compete in the seventh annual Bobby D. Crim 10-Mile Road Race. The race will get underway at 8:30 a.m. Saturday, Aug. 27.

The top runners from the United States, Canada, New Zealand, England and Ireland will compete in the event which has become the largest single-day road-racing event in the nation held on behalf of Special Olympics.

The race will also feature the best women distance runners in the world. Seven of the nine fastest women distance runners in 1982, listed by Running Times magazine, will compete at the Crim. Among those include Joan Benoit, fresh from the Pan-Am Games, Laurie Binder, Karen Blackford, Nancy Conz, Lisa Larsen, Julie Ishpording, and Marge Rosasco.

IN THE SIX previous years, the race has garnered more than $470,000 for Special Olympics. The race has grown from a 750-member field in 1977 to the 4,000-member plus field that will compete this year. It is now recognized as one of the premier running events in the country.

In addition to some of the best distance runners in the world, the race features many local runners. Here is the list of registered competitors from the Observer area as of Aug. 15:

Ken Manko, Farmington Hills; Harold Ekin, Farmington Hills; John Campbell, Farmington; James Kramer, Livonia; Michael Beals, Canton; Michael Reddy, Westland; Paul Zatyko, Westland; Dr. Jules Levey, Farmington Hills; James Karagon, Farmington Hills; Michael Anderson, Canton; Bob Dryden, Farmington; Jerry Moss, Farmington Hills; Robert Ledesma, Westland; Marvin Fishman, Farmington Hills; Larry Wilks, Farmington Hills; Peter Van, Canton.

Aram Gavor, Livonia; Ed Allen, Livonia; Jim Gendjar, Livonia; Mike Esker, Farmington; Frank Hazard, Canton; David Buckner, Farmington Hills; Corneil Osier, Canton; Daniel Blase, Farmington Hills; David Gustkey, Farmington Hills; Tony Ragusa,

Farmington Hills; Stephen Corcoran, Farmington Hills; Daniel Rockow, Farmington Hills; Frank Migliore, Farmington; David Murphy, Plymouth; Michael Sweeney, Farmington Hills; James Murphy, Plymouth;

JOHN LAZAR, Farmington Hills; Jay Hunt, Westland; Frank Ly, Westland; Ted Merritt, Redford; Lee Hatching, Canton; Dwight Kade, Redford; Jacqueline Schoner, Westland; Sandy Ciplewski, Plymouth; Mary Petrillo, Livonia; Ellen Henry, Farmington Hills; Carmen Statmanis, Farmington Hills; Sharon Hobart, Farmington Hills; Becky Klineckowski, Livonia; Caroline Beck, Plymouth; Patricia Crippen, Livonia; Susan Roy, Livonia; Melba Hatch, Canton;

Rhonda Miller, Canton; Barbara Kessler, Plymouth; Shannon R. Meifel, Farmington; Kathy Murphy, Plymouth; Linda Murphy, Plymouth; Barbara Wayman, Redford; and Tania Gabler, Farmington Hills.

Flint is generally thought of as the unemployment capital of the nation. But this Saturday, Bobby Crim Race Director Lols Craig hopes Flint will shed its nickname in favor of a more positive one something like the distance running capital of the nation.

Hawks gunning for .500 soccer season

Editor's note: The following is a brief preview of the 1983 Farmington Harrison boys soccer team. Previews for all other area teams appeared last week. Because Harrison coach Harry Swystun could not be reached, the Harrison preview was not included.

Harrison Hawks soccer coach Harry Swystun is a realist.

His soccer team is coming off a 4-10-1 record last year and six top players off that team have graduated. To make matters worse, his team plays in the toughest soccer league in the state — the Western Lakes Conference.

Thus, his team's chances of having a winning season, let alone winning the league title, are slim. Swystun will be the first to acknowledge that as truth.

"We are shooting for a .500 season. In our league, to do that is to do well," he said.

SWYSTUN DOES have some quality players to work with. For instance, there's goalie John Sepety, a senior. And there's center Dave Quarles and halfback Wasim Bakhour, also seniors. Paul Taylor and Mike Rosenblatt should also help out.

"It's hard to tell this early how much we have improved. Last year we had five or six players with a lot of skill and many others that were weak."

Vellucci takes off for the great white north

Vellucci, who was expected to be used in a fill-in role with Computware, turned out to be one of the most relied upon players.

"IT MAKES YOU feel good, as a coach, to witness something like that. Here's a kid, one of the last ones to make the team, who works and works until he becomes one of the best players on the team. It's gratifying," Craig said.

Vellucci scored 25 goals for Computware last season; not a small feat for a defenseman. He has better than average speed, possesses a hard, accurate slap shot, and his 6-foot-1, 180-pound frame is deceptively strong.

"Right now, Mike is a tremendous talent. If he develops his game some more he's going to be good. If he grows, he's going to be even better," he added.
