Bob Waszonki, a transfer student from Plymouth Canton, will add a deep threat to Harrison's offensive arsenal this year. He runs the 40 in 4.5 seconds.

Harrison Hawks are still hungry

Mark Shapiro and seniors Bill Doll and Mike Jacobs are doing battle.

THERE'S ALSO a fight for the swingback position between junior Jeff Shottroff and seniors Pat Mistorovich and Terry Grabinski.

The defense, known affectionately as an arrangement of craziness, will again feature 30 or more different looks. The defensive line and linebackers appear solid and bigger than Harrison teams of the past.

Ben Chen, Smigielski, Elzen and Orsini will play up front, while Nelson, Sullivan and Ken Hixson will handle the linebacking chores. Todd Marshke, a sophomore, may also see some action.

The secondary may be the best in the state. Miller, Waszonki and Blisell are sure starters. Wood, Mistorovich and Grabinski will battle for the monster position.

"There really are no weaknesses in the defense," Herrington said. "They are solid, quick and intelligent. Compared to last year, we are bigger."

A preseason poll conducted by USA Today ranked Harrison as the 22nd best high school team in the country. Herrington was flattered, but he realizes that the long season lies ahead and it's much too early for rash predictions.

"We have a lot of untapped potential. We could be a great team, but we have to get better. We have always gotten better as the season goes along. I hope we can get past the first few games," he said.

Harrison opens at home Sept. 10 against Bloomfield Hills.

John Miller — some things remain the same. Miller rushed for more than 1,000 yards as a sophomore last year. More of the same expected this year.
