Monday, September 19, 1983 O&E

(Po-SBYOMA)

Sheldon G. Larky is the new president of the 2,600-member Oakland County Bar Association. Larky, 41, has been the reins as the group celebrates its 50th year as an incorporated bar.

Long active in OCBAs activities, Larky presides over an organization which has grown from 100 members in 1934 to more than 2,600 people. A director of the Association since 1974, he served on various committees.

While chairing OCBAs membership committee, the group doubled in size. Larky spent eight years as editor of LACHES, the OCBAs nationally known monthly publication. The Oak Park resident is vice president of the Southfield law firm of Hiller, Larky and Hockenga.

A graduate of Detroit's Central High School, he obtained his bachelor's degree from the University of Michigan and his law degree from the University of Detroit.

HIS LAW career included working as a clerk for the late Oakland County Circuit Court Judge Arthur E. Moore. In addition to his presidency, Larky is a member of the Character and Fitness and the Plain English committees of the State Bar of Michigan. He is a member of the American Bar Association, the State Bar Association, the American Judicature Society, the Southfield Bar Association, the Criminal Defense Attorneys Association of Michigan and the National Conference of Bar Presidents.

Larky is married to the former Barbara Braverman. They have two children, Adam and Howard. The Oakland County Bar Association is a voluntary group of attorneys who conduct various programs for the legal community and the public. It helps finance the Oakland Livingston Legal Aid Society and the Adams-Pratt Law Library. Its daily activities include a Lawyer Referral Service and the Tel-Law Library.
