New for Halloween

It's been a while since our days of dressing up gobins for trick or treat, and a lot of Halloweens have gone by since I haunted store displays of cos-and a lot of Halloweens have gone by since I humbed store displays of costumes and masks.

But this year I found myself back in the dress-up business.

An unexpected retirement activity participation in a church drama grouphad Joe and me protraying a pair of squirrel in a miniplay (much to our daughters' amazement and ammement). And there was need for some sort of head gear to suggest the chattering animals.

No problem, we assured our fellow the think we want going to be driving to the same of the same was not of the same was need for some sort of head gear to suggest the chattering animals. We may going to go the same was need pot an animals.

No problem, we assured our fellow the same was a suggest the chattering animals. We may going to provide the same was a suggest that we want to be suggested to

SO ON THE first night's trip we SO ON this list night's trip we noted a gift store and sent in to buy our hats. There was plenty of mountain craftwork displayed, but not a coonskin in sight. Oh well, we reasoned, we'd look for a junkler store that catered to less expensive tastes.

We found one, in fact several, in the course of our northward and, three weeks, later, southward founeys. Through the hill country. But we never found our hats. And we concluded what we would have realized if the last few years we'd been in closer communica-tions with young kids — that Davy Crockett had long since give way to E.T., Darth Vader and the monsters.

BUT STILL there was need for that squirrely attire. Since it was October, we figured we could find what we wanted in the Hallowesen costume department of some store.

But we visited several stores with no more luck. E.T. and company held away. Animal masks protrayed lions, tigers and monkeys.

more uck. E.I. and company uera-away. Animal masks protrayed llons, tigers and monkeys.

Finally, at the bottom of a pile of masks, we unearthed a couple of non-descript animal faces, and in the fabric department there was a yard of pile material that might be considered squirrel-color, if one were not too par-ticular.

We toted everything home and fig-ured it would make us as squirrel-like as we were likely to become. For-tunately, the stage appearance is short and the audience should be well en-dowed with imagination.

Art show coming

The slinth-annual Birminghum Temple Art Show, featuring the works of more than 80 prominent artists, will be held Friday through Sanday at the Birmingham Temple and the Sanday at the Birmingham Temple and the Sanday at the Birmingham Temple and the Sanday and Temple and the Sanday at the Sanday

Art auction on deck

Art auction given to assist single mothers in the St. Vinenti-Sarah Flisher Center, begins with a reception and preview at 5 p.m. Simday, in Pile Lake Country Club. The event is sponsored by women of St. Owen Parish.

The women plan the benefit for two programs that are now being carried on in the center, One program concerns the young women who are awaiting the birth of their baby in Marillae Hall where they receive connecling, prenatal care and attend school classes. The other program meets the needs of young women who are experiencing problems with being a single parent.

"Both of these programs are presently operating at a deficit," said Barbara Bennet who is a volunteer in the Farmington Hills complex, and who expects the art suction will become an annual event to aid the center financially.

The auction will be coordinated by Park West Callery, There will be a cash bar. Hore d'ocurres are included in the $7.50 ticket available by calling Mary Ellen Murphy in the center, 626-727.

Monday, October 31, 1983 OSE 10 YEARS EXPERIENCE 10% OFF ALL FABRICS Expert Workmenship • All Work G

Call 471-1371 DICK'S UPHOLSTERY SHOP

We Recommend a FURNACE CHECK-UP $3600*

30469 Ford Rd. — Garden City 427-6612 or 477-5600 Infamington

NOTICE OF STREET HAIR STUDIO'S HAIRCUTTERS BY APPOINTMENT Halloween Special: Are you looking scary?
WE HONOR ALL
HAIR SERVICE COUPONSI
Just bring their ad and this ad now thru Nov. 15th.
Offer good with participating artists. 33487 SEVEN MILE WEST (313) 478-2424 (S

Parents observe month for learning disabled

October is "Learning Disabilities Month," and Farmington has one of the largest chapters of the Association for Children with Learning Disabilities in Children with Learning Disabilities in Michigan.

A learning disabled child is a child of normal, potentially normal, or above normal intelligence who does not oper-form well in school because of disorders in one or more of the basic recessed two-ved in understanding or using spoken or written language.

The chapter is an entirely volunteer organization of parents who so often feel was made and properly in the provides understanding for parents who so often feel very much alone as they face frustration, fears and problems coping with a learning disabled child. The chapter hosts monthly meetings open to the public and also publishes a monthly newsletter.

A perceptual motor development gym program, which offers help to the child's coordination, self-image and self-esteem, is also provided along with a special typing program taught by an occupational therapist.

Anyone may receive more information about MACLD by calling the president of the local chapter, Eileen Landry at 551-7158.

Fridaw Nov.

ary at 851-7158.
Friday, Nov. 4, the fall conference of Michigan ACLD will be given in Sheraton-Southfield Hotel with an array of speakers conducting various workshops.

NICE LOOKING KIDS AREN'T THEY?

They look a bit like the ones down the street or on the next block. Or maybe in your own home. These two look a lot like any of our carriers--nice looking, clean cut, industrious, pleasant.

Our carriers are all of these things. They're young business people handling a mini business of their own. dealing courteously with customers, budgeting their time and earnings; saving for things they need and

