

Second runs

Tom Panzenhagen

"Caddyshack" (1980), 9 p.m. Friday on Ch. 4. Originally 99 minutes. This is the week for 1980 films, starting with "Caddyshack," a callow comedy from the "destruction is funny" school of humor. Rodney Dangerfield manages a few singers and Ted Knight is a fine comic foil, but Bill Murray is wasted and Chevy Chase, as always, seems out of place. Some recent comedies — Mel Brooks' "Blazing Saddles," for one — with a little editing, have come off better on TV than they fared on the big screen, though. So there's hope, however slim.

Rating: $2.70.

"9 to 5" (1980), 9 p.m. Sunday on Ch. 2. Originally 110 minutes. There's no hope for "9 to 5," the would-be secretary's liberation film that takes three down-trodden working girls and subjects them to the humiliating paces popularized by Lucille Ball's "scattered-brained dame" school of humor. Dabney Coleman, a wonderful comic actor, can't even right this mess of a picture that begins with one good idea and doesn't know where to go from there. Jane Fonda, Lily Tomlin and Dolly Parton co-star.

Rating: $1.98.

"Airplane" (1980), 9 p.m. Sunday on Ch. 4. Originally 88 minutes.

Could "Airplane" be the funniest film of the past few years? It may be, which says as much about the state of comedy films as it does about this hit-and-miss laughter. "Airplane" certainly has its moments — dozens of them — many provided by the offbeat performances of Leslie Nielsen, Lloyd Bridges, Robert Stack and Peter Graves.

Robert Hayes and Julie Haggerty also star in this takeoff on airplane disaster films that rates high on both the laugh and groan meters.

Rating: $3.

"2001: A Space Odyssey" (1968), 8 p.m. Friday on Ch. 50. Original by 139 minutes.

No discourse here — just a recommendation: See Stanley Kubrick's "2001." Note its subtle wit, the overwhelming irony and watch for clues, or links, that explain the mysterious ending. Keir Dullea and Gary Lockwood co-star.

Rating: $3.50.

"The Professionals" (1966), 12:30 Tuesday night on Ch. 7. Original by 117 minutes.

Lee Marvin, Burt Lancaster, Robert Ryan, Jack Palance, Wood Strode and Claudia Cardinale propel this western adventure beyond the realm of standard, shoot-'em-up, cowboy fare. A clever plot twist at the midway point assures continued interest.

Rating: $2.90.

Detroit Rep does Polish play

"Valeria, a Nightmare," a new play recently smuggled out of Poland, continues through Sunday, Dec. 17, at the Detroit Repertory Theatre, 13103 Woodrow Wilson, Detroit.

Performances are 8:30 p.m. Thursdays-Saturdays and 7:30 p.m. Sundays. For ticket information, call 868-1347.

"Valeria" is a docu-drama that deals with the effects of martial law in Poland, Lech Walesa's influence and the indomitable spirit of the Polish people, particularly the workers.

The play was written by Jerzy Tomaszewski, translated and adapted by Maya and Jeffrey Hadow. "Valeria" is directed by Bruce E. Millan, the repertory's artistic director.

Silent 'Don Juan' screened

Modern audiences will be able to see the 1926 silent-era classic "Don Juan" presented in grand 1920s style at 8 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 12, at the Michigan Theatre in Ann Arbor.

General admission tickets are $8.50. There is a $2 discount for students, senior citizens and Michigan Theatre members. For more information, call 668-8397.
