Coaching needed? Call the computer

In an effort to combat coaching problems within Wayne and Oak-land countles, Bloomfield Hills schools athletic director Norm Quinn — along with some of his colleagues — has devised an unusual concept.

concept.

The plan is for prospective high school athletic coaches to submit the above coupon to Quinn. The coupon will then be placed into a master file to be used whenever an athletic director from a particular school district is in need of a certain coach.

coach.

For Instance, If Troy Athletic Director Joe Francis needs a girls' swim coach at Troy High School, he'd call Quinn. Quin would then check his master file for a coach who submitted a coupon with the necessary swimming qualifications.
Quinn would then relate the Information to Francis, and the Troy athletle director would have an oppor-tunity to further screen the coach. The idea is to have a master list of coaching names readily available to all athetic directors in Wayne and Oakland counties.

The defection is a second of the control of the con problems.

There have been, in recent years, less teachers from whom to obtain coaching services," said Quinn. "But, the (athletic) programs at most schools are increasing."

And according to coach Pat Duthle, who has returned this season after a three-year haltus, the Raiders have the horses, or rather the fish, to do it.
"If we stay healthy, I think we have a good shot," he said. "We have quite a bit of ability. The kids have shown the talent and desire. I've been very impressed with now hard the kids have been working."

meets.

Duthle coached North for 12 years up to 1979. He left the post that year and Jordan Hatch, the man who has built an empire of champlons with the North girls swim program, took over.

LAST SEASON, Hatch guided the Raider boys to the NSL title. Many of last year's top swimmers are back this Brian Goins, who was fifth in the state in the butterfly and eighth in the backstroke as a sophomore last year, is back to lead the Raider charge.

He is joined by classmate Scott Stinson, who swims the 200-yard and 500-yard freestyle events.

Leadership will be provided by senior captains Tom Kerr and Bob Salisbury. Seniors Rob Lynch, in the freestyle sprint events, and Glem Spence, butterly and backstroke, will also be butterly and backstroke, will also be noticibilities of freshman Mike Tumey (200 amd 500 freestlye) and sophomore Mike Buatti (in the freestyle sprints).

"Everyone on the squad is very im-portant to us," Duthle added. North will travel to Livonia Steven-son Tuesday night in another non-league meet.

The Falcons, despite their graduation losses, are not without talent. Alec Campbell, a four-year standout, is back to captain the team. He will anchor Farmington's butterfly and individual medicy event.

Junior Eric Davis will be strong in the breaststroke. Junior Jay Weaver and senior co-captain Fred Courvile will also be major forces in the Falcon attack.
